SENIOR HISTORY

To Miss Ellasue Lemmon, our beloved sponsor who has so ably and justly directed the progress of the class of '24 through its four memorable years in Tulsa High School, we faithfully extend our greatest appreciation and most lasting loyalty

. . . . .

The world awoke with a perceptible start, and even old Father Time rolled his languid eyes around, tilted his scythe at a rakish angle, and sat up to take notice, when the fall of 1920 saw the advent into our halls of that rollicking crowd of five hundred freshmen which was to constitute the class of '24

The youngsters were led off into a glorious start under the juvenile generalship of Kirk Tuttle—president, Glen Galbreath, vice-president, Wade Arnold, secretary, and Howard Wiley—treasurer. The season's success was punctuated by two triumphant events—a freshman weiner roast, and a party later in the year

Having attained the elevated station of sophomore bliss, the class elected Jay Toevs—Burton Jordan, Elizabeth Brewer and Tom Dilbeck as its leaders. Another class party, a sophomore play, 'Irving's Sketch Book' and championship teams in interclass football, basketball and track, were among the achievements added to our list of laurels

The Junior year was heralded in with the usual spirited election. The favor of the class fell upon Philo Grimes, John Beauchamp, Wade Arnold, and Tom Dilbeck. The junior play, 'Come Out of the Kitchen,' was declared to be one of the most cleverly presented comedies that ever graced a T. H. S. platform. The play, together with the junior carnival, insured success financially of the junior-senior pow-wow, which climaxed the year

The 1924 seniors are proud of the fact that they are the first to subscribe to the school's policy of greater gift giving, through their endorsement and support of the project which will give Tulsa High a magnificent pipe organ by the spring of 1926. The class created a notable precedent in reducing the price of the Tom Tom to the reach of all. We were well represented on the state championship football team, while our own heavyweight boys were annexing interclass honors. A hilariously successful senior breakfast, a fine junior-senior pow-wow, and an ever-to-be-remembered commencement week brought the colorful career of the class of 1924 to a triumphant close.

DORIS AVERY

T. Walker Booster Club T. Club Mendocino

"Doris is a good walker." Anyone will agree to that who saw her perform at the Napa State during foot ball season. She has been a worthy member of our Senior class and a loyal supporter to all of its undertakings.

Her only care in life is keeping Charlie in a good humor. Oh! Doris!

LEWIS MENDICINO

Athletic Assn. T. H. Y.

So this is Lewis! His shining black hair and piercing blue eyes make a hot combination. He's got a new line for every girl and boy here.

Lewis has been a constant supporter of T. H. S. and his presence in the cafeteria has given many girls a hearty appet.

Our wishes are that he may always be successful as a financier.

ALICE ARNOLD

Athletic Assn. Girl Reserves

We shall always remember our little blue-eyed "Bonnie Lucretia." Alice is liked by all, especially the opposite sex. Her hobby is making friends and she possesses the most delicate of manners.

There is something captivating in her manner and we will have to go a long way before finding a sweeter girl than Alice.

ORVILLE ANDERSON

A human cyclone hasn't a thing on Orville for speed. He's so slick he can slide through a Physics course like greased lightning. Orville maintains that the ability to bluff through life is a successful end, and is rather to be chosen than great brains. This captivating gentleman with the western stride is doomed to be a politician.

CRESSIE ABBOTT

Athletic Assn. Girl Reserves

You can tell the world you are going to hear from Cressie, for we know that she will never have paralysis of the tongue. Her happy disposition and talkative way have gained her many friends. Her shining brown eyes and hair have captivated the heart of many a young knight, thus making dark days an impossibility.

VIVIAN ATKINS

Athletic Assn. Girl Reserves

Happy, cheerful and possessing a disposition filled with variations which one never fails to appreciate—such is Vivian. She has mastered, or rather enjoyed, the art of making teachers love her. No wonder Vivian has a cheerful temperament. She has that most beautiful asset of physical beauty—naturally curly colored hair.

EVA ALSPHAGE

T. Club Athletic Assn. Girl Reserves

When you see a shy little girl who says but deserves much, thinks logically, acts accordingly and takes home grade cards filled with A's, you will know that this is our only Little Eva. She is a history shark as well as a noted seamstress, but we think she will have more need for the latter.

EDITH ASHTON

Athletic Assn. Y. W. C. A.

With some of those queer girls with pretty dimples and a smile for everyone. Being a minister's daughter hasn't made life any the less enjoyable for her. We might mention the fact that Edith is now laboring under a course in Social Problems, an always interesting subject to those who have been exposed. She is interested in swimming.

JEANNE ALEXANDER

Booster Club Senate Ath. Assn. Tom Tom

She has a character of sterling excellence and is truly regardful for the interest of others. Jeanne has been a most reliable worker in the Booster Club as well as on the Tom Tom staff. We all know that she toppled the heart of tub-buck Charlie with her bewitching eyes. Light-em, Jeanne!

WADE ARNOLD

President Senior Class Secretary Junior Fresh Classes Booster Club T. H. Y. Assn. T. Club Senate Debating Dramatics School Life Tom Tom National Honor Society.

One of the school's most popular satellites, Wade has repeatedly distinguished himself by piling up numerous achievements in various fields. Wade's combination of education, superior and personality incomparable make him a rare Senior prey, but we hear he wears a nightcap.

MADRYN BURTON

Madryn has Trojan hair, so did Helen of Troy. And Cleopatra too, if we are to believe history. However, neither of the latter ladies were so commercially inclined as Madryn. At present, a career as secretary or stenographer seems to be her goal, but we doubt if her flaming locks will allow her to lead so prosaic a life. Time will tell.

MARGARET BALLARD

Silence is golden with Margaret, for she never speaks without due cause. She is dependable and trustworthy, so cheerful and willing that she is popular with every one. Dignified yet sweetly unassuming, she is successful in everything because she is so sincere.

EDITH ALLEN

Athletic Assn. Sec.
Edith has been a most popular girl among all her acquaintances. She is kind and reserved, but friendly. Whatever she goes to, she succeeds in whole heartedly. She is a success in all her endeavors.

LUCILLE BOYD

School Life staff, Y. W. C. A.
Who wouldn't love to have hair the color of chocolate? And the best part of it is that it is entirely natural. Her work on the School Life staff this semester did much to make that prediction a fact.
She is very popular and much of it is due to her cheerfulness and intelligence, which are common virtues these days.

JOHN BLAIR

Y. W. C. A. Athletic Assn., Treasurer
Jolly Johnny is known as one of the steadyest workers in the School Life staff and his record speaks for him. He just has the way of those fellows who get things done and yet keeps in the background. He is responsible for this year's success. John hopes some day to divide his time between engineering and the U. S. Navy. At the rate he is going now he will get there.

NANCY BUCHANAN

Athletic Assn., Anti-Reverses
Quiet and studious, this identifies Nancy. She is earnest and sincere in all her undertakings, and her service to the school will not be forgotten by the Class of '24. Recently Nancy bobbed her hair, we wonder if all well girls will be girls.

NELL BUCHANAN

Anti-Reverses, Booster Club, Athletic Assn.
Nellie is the school's pugilistic, studious, fun, entertaining, humorous, stylish, heart-breaking tom-boy. She is a human all-rounder machine, but she never plays the same card twice. An over-weening sense of humor, rippling laugh, and an ideal personality make her a universal favorite.

CURTIS BURKHOLDER

Athletic Assn., H. Y.
He is veteran of many hard-fought love battles, but the battles are never fought to the end, for he always sees some other girl just at the critical time. He is one of the biggest guns in our class, but doesn't believe in letting books interfere with his education.

LOIS BATES

Edith Sec.
Lois is a girl who is enough to make any one want to love. We are afraid she doesn't like School Professions well, but she made good grades, nevertheless. It must be a gift. This is a girl who is a success. We are almost tempted to mention the name of Dunbar and Pythias in this connection, but we'd shake brides.

EVELYN BURGESS

Evelyn, although destined for the profession of teaching, is a girl who is enough to make any one want to love. We are afraid she doesn't like School Professions well, but she made good grades, nevertheless. It must be a gift. This is a girl who is a success. We are almost tempted to mention the name of Dunbar and Pythias in this connection, but we'd shake brides.

Edith E. E. E., Athletic Assn.
Edith is one of the faithful E. E. E. members. Her blazes and charming personality have endeared her to those who have had the pleasure of knowing her. She says little, but still waters run deep. Edith is a quiet, unassuming creature, a staunch friend, and a willing and dependable worker.

BROWNIE E. E. E.

Basketball, Game Club, Athletic Assn.
Brownie is known for what he has done in the athletic world and he has performed much therein. He is adept at every sport and one of the best in each. What would basketball be without Brownie? He has the common sense with amazing ease. He enjoys life and gets results. This is a success.

PHYLLIS E. E. E.

For all outward appearances, Phyllis is a puzzle. She seems very quiet, but then, she is a girl who is enough to make any one want to love. We are afraid she doesn't like School Professions well, but she made good grades, nevertheless. It must be a gift. This is a girl who is a success. We are almost tempted to mention the name of Dunbar and Pythias in this connection, but we'd shake brides.

ETHEL E. E. E.

Game Club, Radio Club
A whole lot of chemistry work with a sense of a flaming lip. He likes the girls but not quite do his stuff and he twitches his ears when you mention Missouri. He will be a consulting chemist and we can't vouch for his success for he surely knows his element.

JOHN BEAUCHAMP

V. Pres. Junior Class, Senate, Spanish Club,
H. Y. School Life, Ath. Assn., Booster Club
Johnny studies, drinks water, talks Spanish, drives a Ford, and laughs. He came to us as a lowly Septa, and since that time his record in scholarship has been remarkable. Students Beauchamp would be known as 'The French' who changed his name. He has made the most active Senate president the school has ever put on the back

Athletic Association

Ruth is Kate's twin sister but is decidedly the opposite type. For her sister's demureness Ruth is a much more outgoing. One needs but to look into her 'baby blue' to observe this. Ruth is one of Mr. Loescher's star scholarship pupils and her main objective in life is to become a book agent for James and Sanford.

INGRID BRANDBERG

Her work in art has won her a permanent place in Tuna high school's Hall of Fame
... though she can miss

Ingrid is so quiet one hardly knows when she is around but when she does speak she usually has something worth while to say

EDNA BRUNDS

What we are about to say about Mary Frances goes for sister Edna. History in summer school is one of her hobbies but she managed to get out victor

Edna is the one who, when addressed as Mary Frances, loudly announces 'Oh you must mean my sister'

MARY FRANCES BRUNDS

It is well nigh impossible to ... of Mary Frances without thinking of Edna. In fact we don't believe it has ever been done. They might well be called the 'Geminis' for although not really twins they are as much alike and as good pals as twins could ever be. Very sweet and interesting is Mary Frances and she can make excellent candy

MINA BAKER

Mina was born about three generations too late. She breathes of carnation and old lace. The Carolina sunshin is not warmer than her smile. She's only been with us a year, but we wonder how we ever got along without her. Every one loves her. She shows a marked preference for Ted but is going to be a school teacher.

PAUL BROWN

T. Club Football, Ath. Ass'n, Booster Club. He is one of our star football men. Leave it to Paul he is always in the job. Although he is seemingly bashful, he is a wonderful friend when you once get acquainted. A. & M. College holds some attraction for Paul. It isn't the course of study nor the scenery but the girls.

MAY BROWN

TEACHER. May took delight as every Tulsa booster would in seeing Tulsa mail her opponents on the football field and next year will instruct children in the way of being peace loving citizens. We would readily say that she will be a success as a teacher for she has that quiet reserve that invites lasting friendship and yet has a sternness which her students will respect.

JAMES M. SUI

T. Club, Book, Orchestra, H. Y., Ath. Ass'n. With his angelic expression, Jimmy should be playing a harp rather than a cello but at his remarkable ability on that instrument warrants the mistake. He won first prize in the piano last year by doing his best. Jimmy is a veritable violin. If he doesn't make this year to heaven, it'll be a musical mistake.

PAUL BRENNAN

Athletic Association. Paul drapes a pair of spectacles over his nose and assumes an air of business efficiency. However he can drop his glasses and play football like an all American (Coke) and swim like a fish in grease. He works hard, but makes a habit of enjoying self when the opportunity time presents itself, which is all as he desires it.

MARGARET BROACH

Athletic Association. Stella is a member of the midget club, and lives up to their reputation of being a fire whirlwind beauty active and productive of material results. She is an abbreviated buzz saw but she always has something to tell everyone. Many a class-room has been brightened by her sunny southern smile.

LYNN BARRETT

T. Club, Booster Club, Athletic Ass'n, Band, Orchestra, Tom Tom, H. Y.

In the last two years Lynn has come to the front as a real leader in the school. He is a participant in all forms of school activities and his attractive personality makes him a treasured member of any group. We are expecting to hear more of Lynn in years to come. He can't help doing his stuff with that energetic grin.

LESLIE BRADFORD

Orchestra, T. Club. Very quiet, but has the ability to come from her voice plaintive strains that speak more than we could do in many a month. In two years she has held her place amidst the competition of the orchestra's soloists. She directs a mean needle in sewing and no doubt will find this a help in her life after leaving her T. H. S.

CHESLER BOWLES

Ches is a recent addition to our fast traveling class and he has proved able to keep up with the fastest. He is accompanying his apprenticeship with manual labor at the 'Y' and he tells us his watchword is 'I'm a good find chick'. Ches is now a sheltered prodigy of Mr. Moles wrestling gang and he is known for having taken several unsuspecting arguers to a mat settlement.

ROBERT BARKER

Bob is big but mellow, slightly big around and capable of doing big things and yet is possessed of much altitude. He seems to like everyone and for that reason he himself is liked. He likes the girls and pursues them with amazingly good results.

HELEN BROWN

Helen happens to be one of those blessed mortals who are possessed of a happy, joyous nature. One of Helen's most marked characteristics is her sense of fair play. He who expects his friendship to save him from Helen's censure will be sadly disillusioned. Helen is not by any means one of our widely known girls, but it is perhaps better to be known well by the few than slightly by the many.

EDWIN BAUER

Tom Tom, Athletic Ass'n, Glee Club. The mechanism of Edwin's brain seems to have been fashioned for work in mechanical drawing—not exactly for work along geometry of lines. He is an expert draftsman. Edwin's voice has won for him a place of distinction as a Glee Club member. He fulfilled all the requirements of a good student as a member of the photograph staff of the Tom Tom.

HARRY CAMPBELL

His brilliant head-dress is an indicator of his studiously speaking. He pesters the ladies and they like him, he studies his work and gets them, he likes to eat, and he does it. His tribe of diligent workers in their populated but he upholds his scholastic honor with dignity and in this is respected by

JEAN FAYE CALLAHAN

The little girl with the big smile. She has been sunning in Antonio, where, she tells us, she is now. Art is her forte and she proceeds to mix paints and shannon pastels with great gusto. Some day, her extraordinary ability in this line will win her the recognition she deserves and Miss Jean Faye Callahan will become one of America's greatest illustrators.

CONSTANCE CROSBY

Athletic Ass'n, Dramatics, Spanish Clubs. Constance is one justly praised. Miss Tulsa Junior Popularity Queen and Junior play favorite. She wears a never failing smile, and together with her eyes, a combination is formed which is frequently put into action. She has been one continual inspiration as a leader, beauty, and good sport. We like Constance for her dramatic ability, we love her for her beauty.

CLIFF

Athletic Ass'n. Cliff has been a farmer, which we count an honor. He knows his stuff when it comes to running or boxing. To dash off most any distance in a creditably short time is within his power. He handles a mean pair of running gloves and makes himself felt when in frat combat with others. But that scars in friendly combat and we don't see those any more. Battles of his.

CAROLINE CLINE

CLINE

Teacher! Here comes the teacher! Enter Caroline, the pedagogue. While here she has an ideal student and possesses a pleasant quality which you always like. We bet that the knaves she instructs will know their lessons if they follow her example.

CLAUDE COBB

H-Y, Athletic Ass'n

A sure hard worker who brings home the honor in everything he undertakes. His acquaintances know him as a wonderfully good student and his friends know this quality plus the friendliness and good nature that only Claude can use effectively. He sailed away to California but returned in time to get his diploma and we are glad to count him as a fellow-graduate.

VONDALE CLEMENTS

Athletic Ass'n, T. Walker

Physical well-being and love for athletics are the two characteristics for which Vondale every phase of athletics serve as a field for exertion for her. She is the other half of the firm of Clements and Sister. The brunette one, you know.

NORRIS CRUTCHFIELD

Athletic Ass'n, School Life, Tom Tom Hunter Club, Glee Club.

Hardworking Norris is a warrior of note, and has been lauded the highest journalistic circles for his rare business ability. Norris is responsible for the patronage of this book, and his untiring efforts have been rewarded. He travelled to Norman with Carrier (C) and was an energetic part of the tennis department.

KATHRYN CLAWSON

Athletic Ass'n, Honor Club, Girl Reserve, Dramatics.

Well, Waffles, with awe and admiration we have watched your shining oars in Dramatics with wonder and bewilderment.

As with amazement, your overpowering oratorical ability, but of all your many accomplishments, the thing which we will treasure most in our memory is just Kathryn.

LEWIS COLBY

Stagcraft, Senate, Glee, H-Y, Ath. Ass'n.

Who is that dark haired boy, with snappy walk and the merry grin, who is so frequently in front of Locker B 441? Oh, that is Lewis Colby, the boy who was so interested in it that he fell off the front porch. Remember? A good student, versatile, when he wills to be, and a jolly fellow.

EVERNE CON

Shanty, truly fortunate and charming much so that we wonder if her name has not been. The Charm School. She is a student admirer of the cognomen of James O. is especially partial to red.

We think that there is a red, either. We wonder if 'Fall of Peps' wasn't named after her.

ALTON CHANCELLOR

Athletic Ass'n, Union

It is said that opposites attract but it doesn't mean anything with Alton. She is a good looking blonde and is liked extremely well by all classes of people. But this can be accounted for in that her way causes all to look twice before passing her. Her destinies will be controlled by none other than herself, and she lives a good time.

ELLEN DECKER

It is no more to be seen in evidence, her popularity among the girls is well known, of her clothes and manner. Though appearing quiet and shy to those who don't know her, she is, under her demure, a puppy and goth as well.

GEORGINA CALDWELL

As a girl, she is a jolly girl with the brown curls and the twinkle in her eyes. Her success has won for her a host of friends and admirers, while her dependence on her mother has won the respect of her teachers. Good luck to Georgina. May her success never desert her.

DOROTHY DAVIS

U. S. T. Girl Reserve, Glee Debating

Dorothy comes to us from Nowata where she was a member of the debate team for two years. Every one experienced quite a shock when Dorothy began her debate, for who would have thought that demure young miss was such a fiery debater? In addition to being a second Lady Astor, Dorothy is an accomplished pianist.

RACHEL DONNELL

Misses only

She has just come to a big city and left her small town suit and ties. On leaving City she has changed her allegiance to Tucson and is posing by her window here. In the commercial department she finds her work, but her voice has been heard and appreciated in the girls' glee club.

WILLIAM DEGROOT

Glee Club

He is a wing bird of first magnitude, members of Cereus wing makers club. He is a promising singer. He has a lot of work to do and makes a hit almost everywhere he goes. Of the kind that makes us regret that school days are over and hope we will see him again.

OPAL DANIELS

Opal is a student of high in the progress of Lolo High. She is another of those extremely rare examples of the city student. Her grades as well as her personality are far above the average crowd. If we are not mistaken she is studying to become a housewife. She is a sports and a diplomat to boot, and when she is in a room with other women.

MARY DEASON

Very quiet, very dignified, very smart, and very clever in every thing she undertakes. Her company would bring a queen were she not just to be one of them there things. In domestic subjects her real worth is found in her housework she would make. As consistently were her future husband to suit.

HAROLD DEFOREST

High

He is a good fellow, say those who know him naturally. Those who don't know him acquaintance. He has that quietude about him that suggests that he is sure of himself but doesn't care to talk about it. A hard worker.

EUGENE DUNN

Athletic Assn., Senate, High

A smart kid, but he does big things in the ball on interclass teams. One of the Senate's the swiftest Senate team to count for numerals. If he has an idea, and he usually has one, he puts it into good use and its completion. He is a student of the law, being a lawyer.

MARCEL DAVINA

School Life, Fort Tenth Club

Some say Marcel is a fine personage in the Senate, but he'll answer politely either way. He is very shy but has a host of friends, proving, as Horatio Alger, Jr., would say, that true virtue triumphs in the end. We also hear that he was the shining light of his French class.

We hope he gets another friend like Thomas Gales, who flew the coop.

GORDON DUNN

Athletic Association

Rollo doubles in dramatics, playing the part of a Dutch papa in a fairly "detected" with equal pleasure. He goes and you will be happy, says Gordon. But you'd miss a lot of fun, and from all appearances he doesn't seem to be missing much fun. No one ever accuses him of missing drama, but he loves a fat man. For he is very popular and never lacks company.

MARY LOUISE DAY

Booster Club, Athletic Assn., Dramatic Y. W. C. A., Spanish Club, Senate

Marie is well known for her ability as a dramatic star, a librarian and a Booster club member. In later years she expects to better herself by entering the field of social service. Her capacity for leading those with whom she comes in contact through troubles up to maximum level of achievement is a credit to her success.

BRUCE DAYMEON

Athletic Assn.

Giving a lent him to us for his senior year and we are glad the loan was made. When we think of interclass basketball, we think of Bruce. He tried football and made good. His southern accent and golfy are liked. We like this Casagria product, and we hope Bruce has enjoyed his time with.

RACHEL DYER

Rachel hails from Claremore, where she was known and appreciated because of her dependability, and willingness to lend a helping hand. Owing to the fact that she has been with us only this year, we have not had the opportunity of knowing her as we would like to. A self-made girl with a good record.

GLADYS DALTON

Gladys's dramatic ability has brought her much fame in F. H. S. circles. One can always find her in 1377

writing her both, or causing her whole audience to rock with side splitting laughter while she gives humorous selection in negro dialect.

Vennard is a student to whom we point

SAM DIAMOND

Boxing, Interclass Track and Football

Sam jumped and let fly a willowing punch which was his interpretation of boxing. His impression in this manly art was always extremely felt by those with whom he waved the gloves. In other things Sam gets out the middle of the muck and out again with dexterity, and his smiling countenance tells that he always wins.

EARL EAKIN

Senate, T-Club, H. Y., Athletic Ass'n
Earl shines on the stringed instrument — he plays the viola, alto, bass, and violin — is also an all-around good student. He smiles when everyone else is sad, he smiles when everyone else is glad, and believe you me, his smile makes the world look a lot brighter.

JOE EAKIN

Athletic Association
Joe intends to rival Babe Ruth's world record some day, for he plays baseball with a punch. When it comes to singing, he and Earl are about equally gifted. We hear he has a wicked way with the girls. Here's luck, Joe, basebally, girlyly, and otherwise.

BRUCE EMERSON

T-Walkers
Dressed in Crimson and Cream, Bruce made an imposing sight marching with the T-Walkers while football was on. But Bruce is naturally good looking, and he could make a hit were he in a South Sea Island attire. He waves with the dexterity "Watts" is known for him, for he lingers there during his square dance.

CARL ETON

Carl has nobly filled "the unforgiving minute (the usual to Kipling) with sixty seconds worth of distance run." His high school career has been successful. Although he says little we are firmly of the belief that when he does give way to speech it is worth lending an ear to. Carl came to Tulsa High from Beggs last fall, and has maintained an unusual academic record since that time.

ROBERT FARNHAM

Athletic Ass'n
Rob is an all-around fellow, admired and respected by all who know him. He is a fine student, good sportsman, and has a great fondness for "petite blondes" — we mean a petite blonde. His handsome bearing attracts the admiration of many of the latter sex but I stick to my guns and have kept him true to one.

DAVID FREEMAN

Senate, T-Club, Booster Club, H. Y., Athletic Ass'n, National Honor Society, Tennis
David's handsome appearance has caused many a flapper's heart to beat double quick time. David holds the long distance Senate title, being the only person who has been a member every year since its organization. He plays basketball and has represented us at Norman in tennis for two years.

MILDRED FIELDS

T. N. T.

Mildred is a member of the T. N. T. Ass'n, according to a tradition she will some day be a school marm, but we are sure she will be a continual source of delight to her pupils. Mildred will be entirely too kind hearted to insist that they study. She is another member of the sweet, quiet sisterhood.

HERBERT LINNETT

Herbert is a musician. When he was a child he could play on the flute. In spite of this talent he is going to be a school teacher. Wonder is he'll keep a "Charm" in Herbert's native country is Okla. He is a regular pal to every one and we believe his red hair little betokens his true nature.

KATHLEEN FOUNTAIN

Girls' Glee, T-Club, Athletic Ass'n, Student Club, Golf Reserves, T. N. T.
Kitty is the warbler, stroller, heart breaker and speed demon, who graces B. Corridor accompanied by a "Crutch" of the singing variety. She is the unassuming president of the Maudslowi Club and none there are who could better hold that chair.

RICHARD FORRESTER

T-Club, Athletic Ass'n, Interclass Football, and Basketball.

Dick's records have been mighty big for the size of their owner, but nothing bothers him when he once starts to do something. In mathematics he was a star of stars at his letter representing T. H. S. You can talk to Dick about the weather or about Archimedes' Principle and you will find him at home.

LINA FETTER

Athletic Association
Lina is a girl who might have caused Mr. Webster to invent the word "frend." Napoleon and she have size in common. She gets along wonderfully well with herself and her host of friends. She studies now and then for the novelty of the experience, and then finds her studying worth while.

PERCY FLY

Band, Athletic Ass'n, H. Y.
Percy is another one of those pebble pupils from the geology department. But there is nothing Percy likes better than good conversation.

With Mr. Bolyard or a Russian,
With Mr. Wardell or a Prussian,
He can carry on a discussion
Till the owning of the crown.

LORENE FURROW

Booster Club, Athletic Assn., T-Club, Senate, Tom Tom Staff, Orchestra

Lorene is a perpetual surprise even to those who know her best. Talks beautifully, has a sunny temperament, and is brimming over with new ideas. Has a wonderful gift of making friends and is truly regardful for the welfare of others.

IOLA FORD

Dramatics, Athletic Assn.

The most perfect lady in the Senior class is the cognomen which rests upon the gentle shoulders of this chemistry shark, dramatics star, and in short, Miss Ford. This frank young lady is often set up as the epitome of 'studio-logical' perfection, and her ability to drag down A's and maintain an enviable activity record at the same time, is often admired and wondered at.

JENNINGS FARRELL

A comed man who does his stuff on paper and gets it across. Outside of his comedy drawing he is wont to talk little. Bud Fisher will put the same jokes Jennings uses in a short time to come, but if Cartoonist Farrell keeps at it he will beat the illustrious Bud.

GRACE ALICE FISHER

Grace has bobbed her hair since this picture was taken, so it doesn't look exactly like her. Of a serious turn of mind, she also succumbed to the bobbed hair craze. Grace Alice is a shark at all commercial subjects. Office Practice seems to be just as easy as can be for her, while shorthand is her favorite in-class sport.

JESSIE FRANCISCO

Girl Reserve, Agriculture Club

We haven't been able to find out what Jessie doesn't excel in. She has lived in almost every State in the union, from New York to Florida, as well as in Canada, but we are inclined to think she is just a little partial to Tulsa.

WILTON FISHER

Wilton is the obliging youth who cashes your thrift card at the bank. His business-like manner and brilliance in all lines of endeavor have won for him the well merited reputation of being one of the brightest intellectual lights of the school. He has only been in Tulsa High School two years, which makes his record all the more remarkable.

WANDA FOLKS

T N T

Exquisitely good looking and possessed of manners to match her looks. Wanda makes a fine example in a course, hard or easy.

To teach the oncoming generations is her intention, and if it were possible we earnestly believe many seniors would like to go to school again. The better you know her the better you like her.

WALLACE FRANKLIN

Athletic Assn., T-Club, Band, Orchest.

Wallace has proved that musicians of real worth and singular ability do not necessarily wear long hair, and hang-dog clothes. His course and his grades are indicative of his capabilities. Wallace is noted for his work along historical lines, having chosen as electives both Economics and Social

So far as we know, True is the only girl in the school who has attended every football game.

At both football banquets she was a most excellent vicar of the fun pervading after-dinner speeches. Her influence on the football game is indelibly inscribed.

SARAH RUTH GEURIN

Sarah Ruth Geurin is the wife of R. P. Geurin, instructor in the Commercial department. She attended the Western Kentucky State Normal School for two years, and has done summer school work in the Bowling Green business university, Bowling Green, Kentucky, and in the University of Oklahoma. Although married, Mrs. Geurin says that 'she is happy.'

PHIL GRIMES

President Junior Class, Senator, Sentinel, Claves, V. Pres. H. Y. Pres. Freshman H. Y., Booster Club, T-Club, Football, Basketball, Track, Wrestling.

As an athlete he was paramount. In the midst of a galaxy of painted fair ones, or alone with one he could perform to suit all concerned.

GERTRUDE GOODMAN

School Life, Tom Tom, T-Club

Gertrude is a shark at advertising on the Life and the Tom Tom. She approached headed advertising managers with confidence and assurance and always well, nearly always—emerged with an 'Ad.' This success may have been due to her unusual ability or to her personal magnetism, we can't say which.

BERNICE GADDY

Bernice has the prize dimples of the school but since she is a modest girl we don't think she would like to have her dimples mentioned further. We understand that brunettes are preferred, football men especially. Bernice came to Tulsa High as a Junior. She held the offices of vice president of her Freshmen and secretary of her Sophomore classes in the school in which she came.

MARCELLETTE GRANT

Soccer Club, T. N. T. Athletic Assn. Girl Reserves.

Marcellette is famous for having had more football triumphs (off the field) than any other member of the class. Not only this, but she has made serious inroads into the basketball team as well. Marcellette shall not soon be forgotten as the most charming football queen the school has ever dubbed to wear that coveted crown.

VALERIE GORE

T. Walkers Athletic Assn. Girl Reserves. This impressive young blonde is a likely and deserving candidate for the School Belle position and a few of those who would not make her election. She is a wingster and a booster who will be long remembered by the class of '24. Valerie is a student who studies a booster who boosts, and a friend who befriends what more could you ask?

FLORENCE GRANT

Girl Reserves, Booster Club, Athletic Assn.

There is nothing she cannot do and her accomplished lady with her abilities. She is an excellent Home Room leader, and has had a great deal to do with the activities of the class. She is activity personified, and has achieved, scholastically and other. Lived up to this description. "We" is her slogan.

HARRY GOODMAN

School Life, Honoring, Athletic Assn. Harry is our high hat aristocratic financier who so masterly guards the hard earned dollars which the students put into his keeping. Not only is he noted for money management, but is a prominent member of the School Life staff running the position of business manager. He has traversed four years of learning in three and a half. Harry inspires to follow the allurements of Wall Street.

VERA GREIBES

Vera has been enveloped by the true Tulsa spirit and in the past year has displayed the hallmarking school spirit of loyalty and reverence. She is quiet, earnest, sincere, thorough and dependable. Vera has decided to devote her valuable time to instructing dumbbells, after leaving school.

GLENN GLADSON

He believes that study is the fundamental purpose of high school and he works toward the success of his purpose. He can get along with himself wonderfully well and as a rule he does not make many friends. He rather specializes on those he knows more intimately.

GLENN GALTBREATH

Vice Pres. Freshman Class, Senate, Booster Club, Athletic Assn.

Glen has earned his berth on our second team in football for two successive years, and plays interclass basketball on championship teams, which is saying some for one so small. Full of humor and good fun, Glen's bewitching "Gosh" smile reveals to the world his sunny temperament. A loyal booster of all Tulsa High activities, and a leader in many phases of school life.

FLOYD GARDISON

Athletic Assn., T. N. T., School Life. Floyd could be well dubbed "Prince Dependability," for he always does everything that ought to be done, and does it at the time. He is a "keen" writer, having worked on both the School Life and T. N. T. staffs, and we suppose he will someday own his own newspaper. Signing down the Hall with "Lavender and Old Lace" is his favorite pastime.

JACK DEMPSEY

Booster Club, Athletic Assn. Jack Dempsey would go into earnest training were he to be booked for a bout with Gene. If he carries his fight into his chosen occupation, construction engineer, he will come out with a clean record. Then too he can sing like a nightingale on the opera stage. Again we are reminded of his physical prowess with the padded mitts.

THELMA GODWIN

T. N. T., Athletic Assn. Where could we find anyone so jolly and full of pep and good humor as is Thelma. Not even Sappho can boast of such a personality. She ought to be characterized as being individual as she is humorous, were it not for the fact that she is so often mistaken for her sister and vice versa. Thelma has in turn mastered first Latin and then Geometry, and is now a sewing enthusiast.

THEODORE GREENBERG

It is just as easy to find Toby without a grin on his face, as it is for an engineer to bridge the Pacific ocean. Toby is a good mixer and in turn, his friends find a good chum. A care-free individual with a good sense of humor.

HOWARD GRUEN

Athletic Ass'n, H. Y.
 Our little social butterfly Howard is a good sport and loves the great out-of-door.
 He has supported the school at all times 100 it strong and has taken part in many

SAM HAMILTON

An entirely new addition to Julia high Seattle, Washington, has been his abiding place, but he says that he is glad to have the opportunity to be graduated from this great school. To preach the Gospel is his intention in life and we believe and hope he will find success in the work.

JAKE HENDRICKS

Jake is interested a little bit in everything, but is beginning to think seriously of how he can beat the oil business out of a living. In his younger high school days he was a good Fly Scout but now he is just a good scout.
 He owned the wheels and was not afraid of wandering monkeys for he has not the symp-

VIRGINIA HIGGINS

Our abbreviated but important record
 Very much a brunette is Virginia and the navivinity of the brunette is one of her to academics. She looks like a little girl and at that, she isn't so old. It doesn't seem possible that she can be Doris's aunt, does it?

DOROTHY HIXSON

This pretty young asset of the grade class is a counterpart of her sister, in every except looks. They are always seen together and it seems that Esther and Doromaking a wise decision forth-

LOUIE THOMAS

Athletic Association
 Dainty, demure, winsome, petite, all the other beautiful adjectives one could conjure up would not be sufficient to describe fittingly, our little golden haired Louie. Her pet hobby we hear is "Hub". Famous for her delightful chic clothes

THELMA HANKINS

N. T. Athletic Ass'n
 She of the lavender sweater one of Miss Leslie's promising young poets a devoted member of the T. N. T.

 become a school teacher or the wife of a big game journalist

WATT TRUGGLES

radio Club, T. Club, Athletic Ass'n
 If it's anything electrical or mechanical, take it to Watt. He has been Mr. Schup-bach's right hand man for some time, and the emergency cases. Watt is a conscientious worker, and always accomplishes what he sets out to do.

PAULINE HELENA

Dramatics, Athletic Ass'n
 We'll never be able to forget Pauline's colorful portrayal of the lovable old nurse in "Daddy Long Legs". Pauline is the little girl with the twinkling blue eyes mischievous too. Her smile is only an outward expression of her happy disposition.

ARTHUR HEATHERLY

Here, children, we find another athletic girl.
 Arthur could never have lived in any age but the present. Her modern complexion, however, is her charm. Arthur played on several inter-class teams and won numerals in various forms of athletics. She thought she wanted to be a commercial artist until she met, well, a certain person.

LOUISE THICKSON

Mendocino, Athletic Ass'n
 She displays a wicked pair of voice that rivals "His Master's frank personality that greets you kindly or curtly tells you the air is calling for you. Her high school days have been to her own liking for she has a manner of getting that which she desires.

DOROTHY HOEY

Athletic Assn., Glee Club
Dorothy is our Lady of Fashion. We have seen a single hair out of line on her most perfectly marcelled head and in this head we find many brains. She is the rarest of all rare types. "Dot" is also a warbler, having part in the Glee Club this year and we are happy to say that she has added another brilliant "Hoey" to our most noteworthy school.

EMILY HUGHES

Athletic Assn., Glee Reserves
We would call her long girl if she weren't so short. She is a shark at Spanish, and is accomplished in many other subjects. It is reported that four mail carriers have thrown up the sponge because her mail to Notman is entirely too intriguing for them to continue their work.

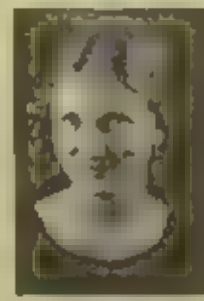

DUDLEY HOEY

Athletic Assn., Booster Club
Dudley is a well known Arrow Collar man. He is a smiling smile and a good natured fellow. His retiring disposition makes his popularity especially evident among the fair sex. His social obligations do not interfere with his studies, for he always has his work.

THELMA HENDRICKS

Athletic Assn., Booster Club, Tom Tom
The popularity of these "little bits" is incomprehensible. "Mickey" is another one of them. Her pretty manner, her bright eyes, and good-heartedness make her a general favorite. She is a good sport in every sense of the word, decent on sleigh riding and swimming.

LULU HITCHBORN

Glee Reserves
Lulu is one of our "demurees". She is a decided blonde with expressive blue eyes. She has been in T. H. S. for full four years and never for one minute has lost her dignity and poise. We are sure her ancestry came over the Mayflower and helped settle the more.

EVELYN HEATH

In accordance with Youth's wishes Evelyn has touched a magic button and has commanded success without apprenticeship. Her associates have always known that Evelyn would make a go of everything she tried without due preliminaries. Her friendship has been invaluable, not only because it has been helpful, but because it has been fascinating.

KATHRYN HUBBARD

Nat. Plan Soc., T-Club, Athletic Assn., Booster Club, Glee Reserves, Dramatics
To know her is to sigh. Oh dear, why doesn't you answer me? The highest of the high steppers who swears in this institution clamor gently in valiant attempts to dare her. She is an excellent student, a superb dancer, and a second choice in the loathful queen contest.

TED HALLER

H. Y., Athletic Assn.
Ted is a great favorite among the girls. He shakes a "mean pair of bow-woos" and he drive a Studebaker sedan in every possible way. With his "why worry" and "I don't care" he makes thousands of school with.

Home Projects Club
Anna Mae is going to be a stenographer, but she is taking a domestic and "commercial" course and can change her mind and settle a purely domestic career whenever she chooses. She is a member of the Home Projects club and has otherwise proven herself one of Mr. Thomas's best farmorettes.

VICTOR HARRIS

Successful as a student in getting the kind of work he wants, and we expect him to convert his knowledge into earning power very soon and as successfully as he has been while in T. H. S.

CHRISTINE FRIEDMAN

Christine is bright, or rather she never lets her ignorance become known to the public. In mathematics she flares up big at grade time with an "A." She once liked the looks of "A" and strived toward the garnering of them to decorate her card. It pays to get acquainted with Christine for she is interesting.

SAMMYE HILBORN

Debate, Glee Reserves, Athletic Assn.
An adorable girl of the flapper type—at least a little. She has brown ribbed hair which hangs in little ringlets around her exceptionally brainy head, a "school girl" complexion like the skin you love to touch and huge hazel eyes surrounded with long curly lashes.

DONALD HARVEY

Rashful Don has practiced being a gentleman and a good student so long that it has become a habit and a characteristic with him. He is out for a practical education, as is shown by his choice of subjects, which seems to indicate that he intends to be a mechanic.

SARA HARRIS

Her grand business is not to see what lies only in the distance but to do what lies closely at hand. Nevertheless she delights in new experiences. When an interview with Mary Garden was refused, she waylaid the manager and secured the necessary information. Nothing baffles her.

GLADYS HERSHKOWITZ

Athletic Assn., Life Saving.
She has loads and loads of friends and is pop-persorified. Gladys excels in many things, but is particularly enthusiastic about Life Saving, aesthetic dancing and Economics. Hershey and Happy are only a few of the nicknames which appreciative friends have bestowed upon her.

NELL INGRAM

At last we have found a person who is in a large degree, an exemplification of our idea of a student possessing a business head. Such a one is like a university commercial college. He can expound commercial law and arithmetic, type, bookkeeping, as well as function more successfully in English and French.

NELLIE KRWIN

A boy's name doesn't keep Nellie from being essentially feminine. Her nimble fingers have evolved flirty creations of satin and straw in her millinery classes, while life saving provides a vent for her exuberant feelings.

EUNICE KUHN

Eunice comes to us from Chicago, via Okmulgee. Besides possessing that irresistible combination, blonde hair and brown eyes, Eunice excels as a student. Her main object in life, however, is to rival Paviowa as Terpsichore. While she is a newcomer to our halls, Eunice has already become known to many people.

RALPH JEROME

Athletic Assn.

Ralph has first class qualifications for a bean. He keeps his hair in a bean, wears bean trousers, and has a bean. Ralph is jealously inclined, he has the highest ideals for fine strong manhood, and supports every activity that will better this great edifice of learning.

DOROTHY JENKINS

Y. W. C. A., I Walkers, Athletic Assn.
Her wit and personality are Dorothy's watch-words. Few are lucky enough to have so many friends as Dorothy possesses. Dorothy and Geneva are such close friends that they even dress their hair the same way. Dorothy's athletic inclinations and ability to wear sweaters in an effective manner make her one of the outstanding I Walkers.

EDWARD JENKINS

Ed has gained renown for his excellent class room ability. He is a real financial genius, displayed a larger roll than anyone else in Miss Kigore's Economics class had ever. He's terribly bashful but the girls go to mind that a bit.

REED JOHNSTON

Athletic Association

Reed is another of the flap variety. He is an accomplished young man, being a student of art, music, and dramatics. Although he was a for-ut-hair because he is now a coiffured girl-hater. It is the wish of the school to know what type of hair oil he uses when it is, chemically speaking, liquid or solid.

HURTON JORDAN

Senior or Senior Class, Vice Pres. Soph. Class, Y. W. C. A., Athletic Assn., Booster Club, Senior Basketball.

He has held innumerable offices because of his popularity and of the confidence he inspired. He did his stuff before the girls; they liked it, before the teachers he displayed his knowledge, and on the basketball court he proved his prowess.

LOUISE KILB

I Walkers, Athletic Assn., Booster Club, Y. W. C. A.

Good-looking girls like Louise are the main attractions of the I Walkers. After an insight into her dress-making ability we shouldn't be surprised if she succeeds Paul Poiret as a designer of women's gowns. She wields a bold racket as a tennis enthusiast.

Tom Tom, School Life, T-Club

We have learned by the perfect report that she muscled a noisy typewriter as a distinguished member of the School Life staff. Besides being a Wardelite, she is a journalistic pride and joy. Margaret's cleverness in pen was truly displayed in her work on the biography staff of the Tom Tom.

RUTH KIRKPATRICK

School Life Staff

The feminine incarnation of human happiness—that's Ruth. Many of Tulsa School Life's best news articles have emerged full-blown from Ruth's teeming brain, and we predict as great a success in whatever field of work she enters after leaving Tulsa High.

She is always willing to be of service to her fellow class-mates.

JACOB KRASNI

The 'Windy City' has sent several of its most distinguished members to Tulsa High. One of them is Jacob. #### HELEN KLINE

CARL KERST

Carl never believes in letting a mere trifle like studies keep him from having a good time. We all have the same idea, but are not so frank as Carl. He is a plain-spoken, straightforward young gentleman and can always be distinguished by his ear-splitting smile.

FERN KENSALL

VIRGINIA LOCKWOOD

Girl Reserves, T-Club, Bowler Club, Athletic Assn., Senate

Gloom busts Virginia! This feminine dynamo is seldom serious seldom silent. She is an ardent T-Club worker, boxer, and general jolt-back in case of need. This school would be much better off with more like her.

ST. LANG

ST. LANG

St. is a new comer, also a fast comer. He has gotten into the graces of the senior class in less time than he takes to shave. St. and his friends have made quite a reputation among certain of the females. Upon leaving these senior portraits, he intends to pursue the non-remunerative but highly productive occupation of Methodist ministering.

JAMES LYNCH

Orchestra, T-Club, Radio Club, S.

BLANCHE HILDRETER

Tom Tom, School Life, T-Club

She hails from Arkansas, this merry miss, and proves the saying that Arkansas produces the best girls. Blanche has only been here since the middle of her Junior year, but she knows more people than many who have been here much longer. Lazing things seems to be her greatest fault. Ask Mr. Wardell, Journalist & her most beloved subject.

THELMA LYLE

One of the most gentlemanlike girls who graduate this year is Thelma. She is fair, square and considerate of all her acquaintances and friends. She is cute, pretty and flip-pant. Thelma leaves a charming little sister who will greatly compensate for her absence, however there will be a vacancy in the school.

CLAIRE LUNDY

Athletic Assn., Girl Reserves

A girl in the kitchen is worth two in the parlor. If you do not believe it try one of her waffles. Claire has in her make-up a wonderful combination of high ideas, good humor and common sense. Her French boy is her pet interest.

JANELLA MCMILLAN

My hobby is to diet, to be slender my dream.

My one greatest hardship is to give up to Janella's sense of humor sets her apart. She can laugh at anything from a 1904 joke to a Social Problems test, which is some, we say.

LOUISE MUNN

Louise came to us this year and we doubt if there is a student (of the masculine gender particularly) who does not know and appreciate her. Her queenly aloofness and dignity won brought many admirers to her feet. She is the beauty of the Queen of St. Barbara. We would all do well to know her intimately and acquire some of her sweet characteristics.

MAYME LOWRY

Girl Reserves

Her dimples and her laugh have won fame for Mayme. Her demure style of dressing her hair and her quiet manner make many think Mayme a quiet girl. Mayme distinguished herself in Y. W. work when she proved herself one of their best candy makers. In addition to her school work she worked in the office for _____.

KATHRYN LAIN

Girl Reserves, Bowler Club, I. Club, Athletic Assn., National Honor Society, Debate, Latin Club.

This active little whirlwind has led in more activities during her four successful years of exposure than any other girl in the school. A rich, genuine, abundant good humor is secreted under her give-away laughing brown

RUTH LEAGLE

Ruth is a girl who is liked by everyone, both girls and boys. She has many close friends as well as many acquaintances. Ruth is good in athletics and Domestic Science and is a very close of many books.

She is just the girl one would choose as a member of a picnic party or any other excursion.

OLLIE LYBARGER

School Girl

A hard working girl is Ollie. You would say to see her trudging home, staggering beneath the burden of numerous books. Indeed, it is hard to find, in this day of modernism, a girl so industrious and conscientious with a sense of the humorous to tide over the

NED MECKER

From Hawaii comes this gallant young American. He made himself at home and we are glad he became one of us. Yes he can swim like a shark, ketchikan, but that isn't all. Basketball, football and track he likes and goes good in. He has in his one year made the grade in grade work.

ESTELLE MCKEEVER

Athletic Assn., I. W. Ikers, Bowler Club, Girl Reserves.

Estelle is a typical all around high school girl and if you should happen to be a friend in need, you can count on Estelle to be the friend needed. She excels as an athlete and it is said that her batting average would make Babe Ruth blush for shame.

THELMA MILLER

This may please. Now we know why the Maestric theatre is so popular. It is like to be shown to their best by this lot of femininity, in her lashing, fashionable trousers coat the best of the adventurous, and her saucy swagger stick.

SEYMOUR MEE

Student Seymour is a corridor celebrity for having been seen 4,200 times, dashing madly through the riot of B corridor, books in hand, hastening to some haven of study, so that his adoring teachers might look on him and say "Unique! Superb! Magnificent!"

MERCEDES MORTON

When we think of Merime we are reminded of sunset, grayly and quiet where dark eyed Carmenitas entertain dusky admirers to the sound of the castanet and guitar. And why not remember her as Mercedes in "Castillo del Torrecapable?"

SUSAN MUELLER

Athletic Assn.

Susan has been Dallas and brings with her a delightful sense of humor. In her one year here she has captured the heart of some of our most delightful and even, it is rumored, some who are no longer.

MAE MILLER

Mae's sweet, even temper and self effacing attitude have made her indispensable to our friends and a pal to her teachers. Of the few who haven't backed their head home since, and we appreciate her good job. Her brown curls are lovely as they are.

JOHN MILLINS

Baseball, Athletic Assn., I. Club, Bowler Club.

CARYL MURPHY

There are two things Caryl is interested in, athletic participation and a business career. Caryl was a member of the two teams which won the interclass championship in volleyball and captainball. She maintains the spirit of willingness and helpfulness whenever her class

MARGARET MAYO

Athletic Assn., C. Reserve

Margaret Mayo is one of the mid-term graduates and the owner of a pair of snappy brown eyes. Her ready sympathy, coupled with the fact that she is a good listener, has inspired confidence in a number of her classmates. She is the type of girl one is proud to

ROSEMARY McGUIRE

Dramatics, C. Reserve

Known for her smile and A's. She is equally well known for her ability to get friends, and to keep them. Rosemary conceals a rippling humor beneath a shyness reticent front. She is chiefly noted for her ability to keep exceedingly quiet. She bids fair to become a rare business woman, until, well, until

BILL MARQUIS

Athletic Association

Bill is happy-go-lucky, seriously. A combination of pep, fun and good humor, work and seriousness. He has always tried to be a f, but it didn't take a little blonde haired by doll long to land him. We don't know whether he's going to sell insurance or be a doctor, but we do know he's bound to suc

ROYAL MARTIN

Track

This nimble young gentleman is as fleet when dashing to Walt's between periods, as he is on a cinder track. He has enjoyed the extreme and unusual experience of having listened to a five dollar question discussed in cogitation for eight hours.

EVALYN MAURER

C. Club, Debate

Evalyn, to those who know her, is a girl with a sweet disposition. To those who know her not, she has a reputation for sternness not merited at all. This is probably due to the reputation she acquired as one of Franklin's Finest Fighters. Evalyn's pet aversion is having her name mispronounced by home room secretaries.

DAPHIA MERCER

A flower like name and a personality equally as bewitching distinguish Daphia from ordinary girl. Generous and fun-loving is Daphia and there is absolutely nothing she won't do for her friends. She is one of those girls whom we value as a friend and counts as one of the truest.

MARGARET MERRILL

Her cheerful smile and ability to make witty remarks at the right time have endeared many an otherwise dull period. In the matter of grades, Margaret is among those whom averages seldom drop below A. She has shown herself able to maintain this standard even through such strenuous classes as geology and social problems.

LENA MARSHALL

Athletic Assn., F. Walker

Lena is known to be such, as (at times) but she is like all other Juliets, she likes her Romeo. She has made many friends in high school and is admired and respected by all. We predict a brilliant future for one who possesses such a pleasing personality and unusual brains.

HELEN MAYGINNIS

C. Reserve

She left us after her sophomore year to attend Haskin College in Mexico, Missouri, but she decided to come back to Tulsa high to graduate. Helen has a lovely voice and aspires to be a prima donna. Helen has been talking seriously of reducing lately, but we hope she doesn't. We like her.

BOB MCKEE

Athletic Assn., Football, Tom Tom, H. Y.

Better to be small and shine than to be large and cast shadows. Bob divides his time between athletics and girls, sandwiching with studies. He is cool, free from self-consciousness and is musically inclined, being an expert on the Victrola. He is efficient and can be business-like. He is happy-go-lucky and carefree.

WILMA MEYER

Athletic Assn.

Wouldn't Tulsa high school be a dull dreary place if it weren't for the sweet, happy-go-lucky, sunshiny, flapper type? Wilma belongs to em. She is an ambassador from the court of fashion and her diplomacy has been used to personal advantage more than once.

MILDRED MILLER

Athletic Assn., Booster Club, T Walkers, Y W C A

A true athlete is Mildred. She excels in volleyball, track, and all athletics physical education department. Her cheerfulness and democratic attitude have won for her a place in the hearts of many girls and not a few boys. She was to be seen with the T Walkers at any football game, where she was a true booster.

CLORIE H. MARK

T Club, Senate, Booster Club, Football Dramatics, Basketball, Athletic Assn.

All the girls fall for Duke's wonderful smile. He's our all around man, plays football wonderfully, basketball excellently, stars in dramatics (remember him in "Dr. Jekyll and Mr. Hyde?") and we hear his pet hobby is clay modeling. In 1923 he earned the claim to the name, Apollo of T. H. S. by winning the Sanders-Rines cup.

WILLIAM MOORE

Football, Basketball, Track, T Club, Booster Club, Senate, Athletic Assn., Chorus, Choir, Tom-Tom, Dramas

Our Bill, at sight of whom the stars hide their diminished fires. Captain of our victorious football team, captain of the all state team, guard on our basketball team, a fairy artist, and a breath taker in dramatics. What more could be asked of any one person?

HELEN MCGRORY

Personality! Helen is the celestial embodiment of all the grace, beauty and charm that four years in Tulsa High School can give a girl. Helen's ability for absorbing the intricacies of the French language is remarkable. Her Titian hair and winning ways have won for her the title of "Helen of Troy."

ERNEST MEHLERSON

A plugger that plugs away until his task is completed to suit even those who look for the minute correctness. His name is synonymous with work, for this is his life. His hobby is athletics and he was welcomed as a point man on his interclass track team.

DENNY MORRISON

He is naughty—but powerful nice. His voice has that fitness which can say "darn" and not cause the listeners to blush with shame. When Denny works he works hard and he gets something done in fast time—this applies to many things.

BENJAMIN MILLER

A decrepit old gentleman pouring over musty, dusty bottles of queer sparkling, strong, fluffy, or cloudy liquids—ha, a chemist—Ben in the future. The decrepit part would hardly hold good now though, for he went out for the senior lightweight football team.

MARIAN MCCARTHY

Girl Reserves

Marian is a pleasing new addition to our senior class. Her popularity extends socially, scholastically, and pedagogically. When you see her behind the shiny desk of a bank president, you'll know her ambition has been fulfilled.

HAROLD MANLEY

Lib. Y.

His black curly hair and blue eyes form a combination no girl can resist. Harold, however, likes only prospective teachers. Some day he may blossom out as a marriage idol, judging from his success in our theatricals.

CLEO MCCRACKEN

Athletic Association

He is a dependable senior worker and school supporter, a frank out spoken friend with a host of friends. As an athlete his best friend, for he was on the football and basketball squad and wrestled with agility.

DELTA MEADORS

She makes A's in cooking, sewing and other household arts, which leads us to believe that the man she marries will be extremely lucky. Modest and unassuming, she even refuses to acknowledge that her lovely wavy hair is anything unusual.

EDDIE R. MARTIN

Booster Club, T-Club, Football, Wrestling, Athletic Assn.

Pawhuska brought to Tulsa High a real man in every way. For football and wrestling he is known by all, but as a very interesting and envious sideline position, he has broken into the hearts of the girls, going full speed ahead.

DOROTHY McCUNE

Y Club, Athletic Assn., Mendocchino
Dorothy is sweet as she can be and has a fine that would stop an ordinary eight-day clock. She is a slick dancer, and her speciality is special Jet veries from Ohio University, even though humpo playing does hold charms for her.

RUTH McWATERS

Athletic Assn., Library
Ruth is the girl with the pretty bobbed hair, present dimples and huge blue eyes. But why an introduction? Every man, woman and child in this institution has received one of her million dollar smiles. We hear that she has a South American lover. Some men born lacks.

FRANK MCGUIGAN

Y Club
Can't get behind him. His wondrous mood, coming toward all groups, puts him at times apart from his fellow-classmates. But he will depart from his speciality and take his place with the best of others and prove himself at home.

DELBERT McELOGHLIN

National Honor Society, Booster Club, Y Club, Athletic Assn., H. Y.
Delbert, captain of our fighting basketball, a fine football player, a good booster, and the possessor of a magnetic personality. His way with the ladies, has justly earned him admiration and respect of every member of the high school. His fighting spirit is bound to bring him out on top.

LORENE McDUNNELL

Athletic Assn., Girl Reserves
Lorene is the striking housewoman who is spirited with home in all the school parades. She has nerve and class that fill our hearts with pride that she is Tolson's Lorene. For, she is an and girl good at dancing and all sports.

PAUL MINSHALL

Y Club, Athletic Assn.
Studies never seem to interfere with his education, but he has grappled severely with Ormon Flunk, and now he stands sublime in triumph—a diploma is forthcoming. His ability to pull down the best dates in the school in the shortest notice is almost uncanny—but we see an explanation in his dancing.

JOHN NORRIS

Y Club, Orchestra, H. Y.
Kreisler's favorite instrument was the violin, so is John's. He has nobly manipulated the violin for Mr. Ryan's aggregation for three years and is a very important member of the first violin section. John's only interest does not lie here however, for he is an active pugilist in Mr. Simon's set of heavy hitters.

CLARE NELSON

Dramatics, Athletic Assn.
Clare is an unusual senior. She can double in society and pull down the first letters of the alphabet, at the same time. Her abundant supply of "different stuff" has surrounded her with a host of friends. Nothing exciting ever slips by her.

JAMES NEAL

Athletic Association
By his hatless head you shall know him. James is a quiet easy going manipulator who has made school work a pleasure. He is a real mathematics student and also specializes in science. His eccentric personality is far from displeasing, and it has gained for him a host of friends, in whose company he is always seen. We hope to see James as a noted scientist in twenty years hence.

LUNICE NORWOOD

Pretty and dainty, possessing all the attributes which go to make up a thoroughly wholesome and likable girl, there is little doubt that Lunice's popularity is fully merited. School doesn't bother Lunice much. She is not interested in other things, such as—well, we're not mentioning any names.

LOUISE NISBET

National Honor Society
About the blondest person we know, and the most efficient. Contrary to the general idea that blondes are fickle and undependable, Louise can accept responsibility and fulfill very creditably. Her grades in—hand, typing and other commercial subjects seem to predict a business career for Louise.

VERNON PROWSE

H. Y., Athletic Assn.
He handles his hands in boxing in treats like Rudolph Valentino manages his foot apparatus. But when not boxing he can make as good a friend as anyone. Of the sort that's amiable and impossible to get on the war path unless provoked. Invariably seen with Ben Cherry.

GERTRUDE NIECE

Possessed of a quiet personality and an unassuming manner, Gertrude is nevertheless an important part of the senior class. She has a leaning toward the culinary arts. Gertrude is a wise girl. She probably realizes that the way to a man's heart is through his stomach.

FRANK PIRO

Stage Craft

Frank is our efficient stage manager, who has so patiently pleaded, then sternly commanded the irritating seniors to stay off the stage. He leans toward the position of a movie director, so that the audience won't hear him scolding the green unit.

LEONA PINDER

Athletic Assn., T. N. T.

Leona has a pink and white complexion, a sweet disposition and the habit of being helpful and kind to everybody. These attributes make her popular. A real joy to her friends. She is an embryo teacher and is bent on making a safe life for the student.

EDNA PATTERSON

The purpose of coming to school is to study, says Edna and she does so. One of the reasons for her unusual studiousness may be that she intends to be a teacher some day, and wants to be prepared to guide the youthful mind in the way that it should go. Unlike many red-haired girls, Edna is not given to great vacillations.

CLARA PARKER

Vertical Associate

Happy-go-lucky, is our Clara. With her twinkling eyes she captures the hearts of some of our most unassuming boys. She dances and smiles, flirts and beguiles, but just the same, she pleases with her style.

THEODORE PITTINGER

Orchestra, T-Club, Athletic Assn.

Toddie and L. His most peculiar sport. He can extract anything from his violin, and comment boldly says that his name will assert itself in National circles before his time is over. Of stature, long, but with a disposition of an ideal gentleman and a cynical way on.

ETHEL ONAN

Athletic Assn., School Life, Carl Reserve

She seems to be one of those people who count ten before they speak, and then talk to themselves. We feel that her slow, sure smile compensates for her lack of spontaneity in speech. She is an enthusiastic and energetic worker, having mastered such things as Latin. She is a

TOM OVERTON

Hi Y, Athletic Assn.

Tom not only looks the part of a banker, but is one at least he is a Home Room th. He director of more than usual ability. Commercial arithmetic does not mean mental tortures for Tom. His brain is a melting pot for out of which flows a grade report worth not

ALPHA PENSURY

Alpha, we believe, is some relative of Cartington's renowned Perceid. She has the same meticulous manner and ability for getting by on her personality. She is inclined toward a commercial career.

GRACE PRESTON

Eyes as blue as the summer skies, smiling so beguiling, fittingly describes Grace. Personality plus, all her friends say, and they should know. You generally associate vamp with black eyes and hair, but Grace can surely sell a deadly sin of sky blue eyes.

DEAN PUGH

Dean is the original Jazz World. Ever since entering the high school he has been acknowledged as the leading authority on up-to-the-minute saxophone music. He is a kabie chap and the kind that every one wants as a friend. We wish wherever he may go, and we know that he will achieve success.

EMMA PARKER

Athletic Association

Emma is one of our little brunette dolls, who stir the hearts of the entire masculine gender, quite the clinging vine type, would say. Emma has proven herself very sweet and pretty and makes good grade. That is an accomplishment.

BEN QUERRY

14-Y, Boxing, Glee Club, T-Club

This pugilistically inclined young gentleman is a hard-working plough horse, who can be depended upon in any case. It has been surreptitiously hinted that he is negotiating for a sparring partner. At any rate, he'll hold the title.

IRMA QUINION

Irma has a particular faculty for leaving her books where they oughtn't to be, especially when she needs them. She is bound to rise in the world, she has a head start on the rest.

LESTER ROBERTS

School Life Staff, Athletic Assn.

Lester as sport editor of the School Life has been more than a ornamental figure head on the staff. He toiled unceasingly on Couch Ray's football wauchon. Lester looks at life's studies with a smile and an optimistic attitude, even when semester themes are the cause of his displeasure.

GOLDENE RYAN

Merriment and joy fairly radiate from Goldene. She even managed to smile through history and made the class enjoyable for those who wouldn't have liked it otherwise. Goldene is small in size but large in intellect.

DOROTHY RENERO

Dorothy is a true Tulsa High girl, full of loyalty and school spirit. She certainly rattles the way. Dorothy has represented Tulsa High at Norman two years, and besides being a musician she is a noted swimmer. This is what assured us that this member of the class of '24 will be progressive in her life.

PHYLLIS REIS

Art Reserves, Nat. Honor Society, Tom Tom, School Life, Athletic Assn., T-Club

If there is anything in the world that Phyllis can't do, will someone please report it? Phyllis is a lovable collection of good-humor, and there are few who do not know it. Her bubbling laughter has often brightened the corridor where many have marveled at her grade card.

CHARLES ROBBINS

Treasurer Senior Class, Booster Club, School Life, Tom Tom, 14-Y, Senate, Athletic Assn., T-Club

War horse 'Charlie' is one of the senior gems. He can do everything from writing sport stuff, managing the Tom Tom Biographies and manipulating his grade-card to driving his well-known Dodge. He is made of sterner stuff than many budding seniors.

HELEN ROGERS

Athletic Assn., Carl Reserves

She carries an Irene Castle gown and carriage with ease. Tulsa High will mourn the loss of Helen's entertainment at the Hippodrome each spring. She is pursued by all the young gentlemen because she is a charming dance partner.

MAY ROACH

May is one of those superior beings who make good grades without the unnecessary preliminary of studying. She doesn't believe in telling her affairs to others. Consequently there is much conjecture in certain circles as to the identity of the young man who brings her to school in his car every morning.

GERALD REARDON

Athletic Association

Gerald is one of our most popular Shucks. He is often seen making the 'drag' in his blue Packard. Shick hair, perfectly cut clothes, a blase appearance and you have a perfect conception of Gerald. Many a girl's heart and pulse have registered 444 in the shade upon sight of him.

FRANCES ROBINSON

Señora and Señoras, gaily tripping to the tune of a guitar, sparkling eyes, flashing white teeth set in a sunny smile, glistening black hair, crowned with a velvety red rose and shimmering lace mantilla - a proper background for Frances' beauty, everyone will agree. Her studiousness enhances her attractiveness.

MEYER REISMAN

Though it's angels may write, only devils can print. Meyer comes in the latter class - we mean he's a printer's devil. He has also gone out for interclass football, and proved that type crates in no way affect one's athletic ability.

NETTIE ROBY

Orchestra, T-Club

It would be hard to find a more energetic girl in the entire senior class. She performs every task assigned to her with pep and enthusiasm. Not only is Nettie a good student but she is a promising violinist as well. She has been a member of the high school orchestra for three and one half years.

RUBEN RUBIN

Athletic Association

Rubin was created to play the part of a perfect desert lover. He has, however, thus far merely walked the halls of Tulsa high and stirred the throats of romance in many a creature of the sex. He is blessed with the most pleasingly alliterative name in the class.

LOY ROACH

When asked what Loy likes best of anything in the world, a dear friend of hers says, "boys." Loy proves her undying loyalty to her friends by having the same girl pal all through high school. Loy's disposition is as sunny as her golden hair.

MEYER ROSEN

Like many another member of this great institution, Meyer's chief difficulty is history. He had a lovely time taking it in summer school last year, however. If you don't believe us, ask him. Although small in stature Meyer makes up for it in brain power. Quantity not quantity is his aim.

MARY ROSE

School Life Staff, Life Saving, Girl Reserves, Athletic Association

A Rose by any other name— applies to Mary. For sweet she is with a disposition and manner which endear her to all who have the pleasure of knowing her. She is excellent in all subjects relating to English and French. A member of this year's Student Council.

CHARLES RUDY

Studies, lessons, toil and trouble

It is all to me a bubble

This dashing young gentleman has been dubbed the most energetic when a dance is mentioned and the most weary in case of study. He has dated a member of every social set in the school and promises to set a record. Our best wishes accompany Rudy as he sets forth in the cold and dreary world.

VELMA ROGERS

Athletic Association

A life of happiness has permitted Velma to find something of interest and beauty in life's darkest corners. She has a marvelous command of persuasive language and the response is overwhelming. She is one of our few good-looking blondes without the aid of peroxide.

HELEN REARIXON

Mendelssohn, Athletic Assn., Aquatic Club

Helen is one of our big little girls. She is so small in stature one would hardly believe that she had reached womanhood. Light bubbled hair, baby blue eyes and a million dollar smile make up Helen. But have you ever heard her sing? If you have been so unfortunate as to have missed it, you have yet to live.

DONALD ROSS

Athletic Assn., H. Y.

Our military man, Donald went to Hampton last year but absence makes the heart grow fonder, so he's back in T. H. S., making his high school education. A boy with really brilliant ideas, sometimes also, a liking for the fair sex. "Silence is golden" but what's a little thing like that to me, says Don, and chats merrily on.

VIDA ROBERSON

Vida came us just last January from way out West. She was attending New Mexico's State Teacher's College but Vida says, "I surely have become attached to Tulsa High and the great school spirit that has been shown here." We can wish that she could live out her four years of life in a good school.

JOLLY RUSSELL

Jolly's jolly all the time and when with you he makes you happy too. But being jolly doesn't hinder his intentions for he soon pushes more work in less time and talks less of it than anyone. He can philosophize on most anything and make you see his side of the argument. His ambitions run along the line of mechanical engineering and we can expect to hear of the accomplishments of Jolly in big print.

CHARLIE RANKINS

Crux Club, H. Y., Athletic Assn.

Charlie is one of our heartbreakinglyest seniors. With his coal black hair, his excellent taste and beautiful disposition, he has won his way into the favor of everyone in the school, including some of our best looking girls. He has played football and gone out for track and proved himself the athlete in both. An industrious kid and a "good sport" in every sense of the word.

SCOTT SADDENFIELD

Pres. Junior Class, Booster Club, Basketball, Track, F. Club, Dramatics, School Life, in Tom, H. Y., Spanish Club, Senate, etc. of Y. C. I.

Our original serpentine dancer has teamed with his comely classmates yet another year and his "There's a Reason" personality has won additional honors for its versatile master. He is always willing to forego personal glory for his school. How we shall miss Scotty

DONNA SWARTZ

Have you ever heard Donna making any noise? put it down as the eighth wonder of the world. When sisters are in the same classes, they just have to behave, though we know Donna would anyway. She seems to have a special liking for commercial work.

ROBERT STONE

F. Club, Senate, H. Y., Band, Orchestra, Athletic Assn., Booster Club.

Of a deeper, more studious nature than the run of boys is Bob. His achievements in the school are witness to his sterling character. His only weakness

PAUL SMITH

F. Club, Senate, Glee Club, Athletic Assn. Paul has won honors in our school in two of America's foremost arts, music and cartooning. He sang in the Glee Quartette and if he charms to soothe the savage beast, Paul should go in for animal training. He is the stimulant of many of the clever posters displayed in the corridors that draw you to the plays and athletic events.

LAVERE SCHOONVELD

School Life Staff, Athletic Assn.

Constructive talent? Lavere is characterized by it. Her course has consisted of every hard subject in the curriculum, from English under Mr. Green to History and Social Problems under Messrs. Franklin and Wardell respectively. In all she has been successful. Lavere is trying out for Norman in Modern Exorcism. She is one of Mr. Green's star pupils.

DOROTHY SANDBERG

Club Y. W., Athletic Assn.

Dorothy is the possessor of the beautiful curls which are the envy of many of the seniors. She is a geometry shark, having represented Tufts at Norman last year. Dorothy left us last semester, but the fact that she returned in

GEORGE SEIMELER

Athletic Association.

George is perhaps the funniest of the Senior Class. One can recognize him by his antics. He can and yet his friendliness. George's ambition is to be an insurance salesman. A rather good chum with a good sense of humor.

GRADY STEFF

If it comes heads we go to the dance, tails the show, and if it stands on edge we

The humorous part of this little tragedy comes in the third act, when we hear that it stood on edge one night, and the climax was capped when Grady had heart failure for three days following the study. From all we can learn, Grady wields a mean cue.

ALBERT SCHOONOVER

Athletic Association.

Good ole lean lanky long boy! Albert has been a helpful worker for four long years, and we have learned to appreciate a boy of his over. He was desirous of membership in the Bowley Bachelor Aggregation, but various protests from the girls frustrated his plans.

HOWARD SKINNER

Howard plays baseball in a manner that makes Babe Ruth green with envy when he hears about it. He is very unobtrusive but is well liked by those who know him, which is after all the true test of a fine fellow. At a boy Howard wrote with you to the seventh inning.

CARLIN SEAFORD

Athletic Association.

A serious attitude toward work and studies, a sense of humor that endures heartbreak, the bright side of life belongs to Carlin. According to Dame Rumor his greatest ambition is to become popular with a certain little black haired miss comprising a part of the Sen. of class.

SAUL SANDBERG

When Saul came to Tufts High from Russia great was the school's gain. He has been the author of many a winning essay in the past and his deep thinking manifests itself in the form of more than one impediment. He mastered trigonometry as if it were not difficult (for us poor mortals).

MABEL SMITH

Athletic Association
Mabel flashes a wicked eye that has caused many a sturdy heart to turn a couple of flips and cochase in a way not at all seeming to a dignified member of the in sex. Does she like auto riding and wienet toasts? We l

TAYLOR SARGENT

Taylor just dotes on Latin and hard subjects like that. And he makes good grades in them too. Taylor believes in the old maxim: Beauty is as beauty does, which is probably the reason for his obliging nature. Nothing for all the educational films is one of his horrors.

EARL SHIFF

Athletic Association
A happy go lucky, big hearted school boy who is in place when it comes to being a however, while on his diet, he puts his lunch menu to one dozen but does it a really hand shake and ear to ear grin will get him through this big cruel troups.

MARGUERITE SANDERS

Y. W. C. A. Team
She would be a fine model for the youth work ads, because her smile is so natural and her teeth so white. However, her sunny disposition is one of her most endearing characteristics. Marguerite would have been a member of last semester's School Life staff if her schedule had permitted.

F. E. SMILEY

F. Club, Athletic Assn.
This serious-minded young chap has been keeping well in the back ground, but has been consistent worker and booster in our class since its humble beginning. He is a conscientious student and is especially interested in editorial and mechanical work.

GLADYS SMITH

Girl Reserves
Gladys is another of our beautiful Spanish beauties. She is recognized as an exceptional student with very high ideals. We hear that there is a regular jet stream line in front of Gladys's house all of the time. O well, how can we blame them?

NEBE STRUBB

Athletic Association
Nebe is without a doubt our flapper world meaning she wears the latest flapper togs has her hair trimmed at precisely the right angle does around. We know, but still maintains her equilibrium in the world of knowledge. She not only has a most remarkable brain but has learned the art of concentration.

JAMES STEVENSON

Athletic Assn., School Life
A typical red haired heart-breaking dilly dewan. He snags through school bestowing enough time on his studies to slide the rug and flitting gads here and there like a butterfly the other ninety nine one hundredths of his time.

KATHERINE STAPP

Joe is blessed with good looks and a host of devoted friends.

IRVIN STAMPER

Athletic Association
Why is it that those beautiful marbles the envy of all the girls always fall to the lot of us we strive to please attract many true friends. Some day when you find him across the police desk just so from the case of 24' and we know a nice $10.

NORMA SUTTON

MIRIAM SWARTZ

In writing Miriam's biography we need only to put marks under her sisters. They are much alike though we think that Miriam is fun a little more and studies a little less. Baldwin, Kansas claimed her until a year ago but now we are proud to have her here.

IVAN SWAIN

Athletic Association

To say that Ivan is good looking would be putting it mildly. His shining black hair and sparkling eyes "take well" with everyone. His retiring disposition in no way affects his popularity. He is on the 11th degree.

AILEEN JACQUELINE STORCH

Another miss who hails from Arkansas and is proud of it. She is charming and pretty and her long, black curls are the envy of every feminine beholder. Art and French are the subjects she likes best and in which she displays unusual ability.

FLORENCE STOWER

Club Athletic Ass'n. Girl Reserves

Her name is synonymous with the Physical Education department. She has time though, to study, play and hunt for T. H. S.

ED STUPP

Pink slip. Stupp is our marvel of the century, for having successfully mounted to the pinnacle of our educational ladder. He has as good a time as any boy in the senior class and that, by the way, is stating a proposition and is very popular among friends. Ed is one of Mr. Rau's favorites always seen in that department.

FRANCES STEVENS

Girl Reserves, Athletic Ass'n.

Frances is a very jolly, talkative girl but rather domestic in her ways. Her hobby is arguing (she is) she is well-known for her ch...

ESTHER SHOUKANI

Athletic Association

Esther impresses all who know her by her quite different qualities: quick charm, thorough efficiency. Her eyes are keen, her mouth humorous and her manner simple and kindly. We don't know whether Esther has decided her future or not, anyway she is taking Commercial Law, Agriculture and Public Speaking.

DOUGLAS SHARPLES

Senior Ass'n. H-Y

One knows Doug by the characteristic grin on his face. He is an all-around athlete and student and is well known by his activities. Douglas is a cheerful...

the atmosphere don't get excited.

For this's game. Although serious, she can be quite anything for a laugh and she doesn't need a comedy make-up to do her clowning either.

ARCHIE STEINER

Stage Crew

Take life easy, is Archie's motto. Another one of our slide and get through seniors—but a good kid for all of that. He's a regular...

JEAN SUTTON

Jean, we firmly believe, is one of the most extraordinary girls in school. She takes printing which is itself an unusual subject for a girl. Besides that however she makes excellent grades and is very popular. Jean entered Tulsa High from Sand Springs.

PAUL STELL

Stagecraft H-Y

Paul says nothing and does lots. He has been a tireless worker in our department and has contributed much in work and service to the school through this medium. He is also known as a heart crusher of the cutthroat description. We can hardly blame the young lady who has fallen for his stuff.

IRENE TURNQUIST

Athletic Assn. Life Saving T. N. T.

As the day is associated with the night, so smiles and frowns are synonymous terms. In the latter, I believe, Irene's name might better be Turnabout, for although not so tall as we suppose, she makes up for it in her quality and sweetness of character.

LUCK LUTTI

Pres. Freshman Class Vice Pres. Senior Class Hi Y. Athletic Assn. Booster Club T. N. T. Senate Orator and Debating Dramatics School Life Tom Tom National Honor Society

FLORENCE TOLLEY

Tall and slender, Florence represents the ideal type of feminine beauty. Sewing is the subject in which Florence excels and the proof of it is in the beautiful clothes she makes and wears.

School would be fine, says Florence, if history were omitted from the curriculum.

RUTH TURNER

Ruth hails from Yuma but it has in no way affected her mental powers. She intends to impart her great fund of knowledge to her younger children. "My boy, I love my teacher."

LETON TIER

Banking Hi Y. Athletic Assn.

Leton is a commercial shark and is special in that field. He has been working in the bank for two years and is one of Mr. Turner's stars. Leton is off of the women like a dervish. He is confirmed in bachelorhood and hopes to keep his life untroubled. Never the less, we would not be surprised to see him forced to submit bashfully to the wiles of some flapper.

MARY TAYLOR

English T. N. T., Athletic Assn.

In this case the name Mary just fits, but not so well as "Molly." What little modesty Mary may have in mental struggles with her history or psychology is more than amply compensated for in the brilliancy of her hair. Mary, besides being good-looking, excels in cooking. She represented Tulsa High at Norman in Home Economics.

GENEVA THORNTON

Individual looking that's Geneva. One thinks of her as the Ming Toy type from the land of cherry blossoms. Geneva has well attained the standard of Senior excellence. She demonstrated no small ability as a member of the School Life staff the last semester of her junior year.

ARLE TRAVIS

Dramatics Athletic Assn.

Arle has come into his own in his last year and has been sprouting out into several different activities, both academic and athletic. He has made several most successful appearances on our "legitimate stage" and is known as quite a character portrayor. He is one of the school's best racket welders. He can study when he wants to, but he can always have a good time.

DORIS THWELL

Athletic Assn.

Doris came to Tulsa High from Tonopah, Nevada, and we fear she hasn't forgotten that place as yet. Doris enjoys horseback riding and we are inclined to think that hers is a ravishing figure as she cuts the air with the hiss and tingle of her riding whip.

LELAND TOWN

Athletic Assn. Banking

Introducing our future bank president, it may only be in a Forley bank, or one in New York, but a bank president just the same. Leland surely "kicks" a car over the road with no mean ability.

FRANCIS LEE THORNTON

Francis Lee is as light-hearted and gay as the summer wind, but when the occasion demands it every fiber of her is tinged with dignity. She has succeeded in mesmerizing many of her classmates with her smiles, and is one of the dearest and most delightful girls in the graduating class. Francis is one of Dame Lushorn's executives.

GENEVIEVE TRINDER

Booster Club Athletic Assn. Girl Reserves Life Saving

Pinky a delightful auburn hair has caused many a masculine heart to fall from its sturdy foundation. One of the most peppy and popular girls in the class of '24 with her nice ways, her sunny disposition and regard for others. A life saver who saves drowning persons as well as broken-hearted ones.

JAY TOWNS

Pres. Soph. Class, H-Y, Glee Club, T-Club, Booster Club, Athletic Ass'n, National Honor Society, School Life, Tom-Tom.

But what Towns? He has been a true friend to seniors, a worthy ideal of the juniors, a valuable counsellor to the sophomores, and a big brother to freshmen. Jay is scholar, booster, friend, and sport. The highest tribute we can pay him is. He has left behind a record of service and a standard for moral excellence.

HELEN VESSEL

Tom-Tom, Girl Reserves, Athletic Ass'n, I-Winner, Life Saving.

Helen heads the list of patriotic, enthusiastic, and energetic workers of our school. She is a perfect school girl. Helen is so charitable and generous that she willingly and gladly devotes her time to school activities.

LOUISE VUNICHOFFEN

Louise looks at life with a smile, as is shown by her picture, maintaining always that happiness is a virtue, but the thing we are unable to grasp is how she can smile through English VIII and Social Problems. Louise drives a Ford coupe. "Nuff Sed."

JOHN WAKEFIELD

Athletic Ass'n, Dramatics.

Johnnie has a million dollar dimple, which makes the members of the senior variety have a hard time when he wags and mentions in this episode. He studies like a gourmet eats bananas. His specialty is drawing, both mechanical and art, and he has been so successful in the former, as to be recommended to a local concern by the school.

ESTHER WALLACE

What can be the reason for Esther's taking both commercial subjects and cooking? It may be that she intends to either make her own living or manage a home. It is hard to tell which will be given the preference, she is so good in both. To top all her accomplishments she holds down a 'cell' in the bank.

BLAYRICE WEISS

Athletic Association.

As busy as a bee, fits her exactly, only her busy ness is in making rose and gathering honey's. Her smile is a constant source of delight to all of her numerous friends. Being a good sport and a good friend are her most achieving achievements.

BERNICE WALKER

Athletic Ass'n, Girl Reserves.

Bernice is one of the T. H. S. favorites, was selected by the seniors because of her beauty and charm as one of the six most popular girls. We all think she is a regular girl because she marcel's her hair, chews gum, eats tomatoes, takes the boys, and takes three lumps of sugar in her coffee.

ED WARREN

Craft, Athletic Ass'n, Tom-Tom, Life, T-Club, Glee Club, H-Y, T-Walkers.

That argumentative young man one sees so often in H-S. He will need all his haranguing powers, however, when he succeeds his father as Judge for that is Ed's aim in life. He distinguished himself this year as one of Anthony's curtain pullers and as a member of the T. H. S. School Life staff. Ed's hobbies is working ability is really superior. He makes an enthusiastic Glee Club singer and member. He has that little way of looking at the girls that causes them to fall quite flat (for him we mean). At being late, Ed is really proficient. It's the best thing he is at.

MAHEL WILMAN

Mabel is one of that almost extinct species known as 'good listeners'. Good listening, which manifests itself in every one of her actions, is one of the salient points of her character. She is a real pal and has a sympathetic nature.

FRED WICK

Athletic Association.

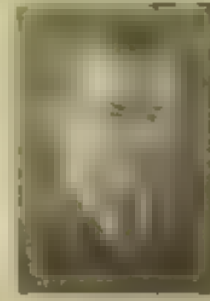

Fred is one of our quietest students. Nevertheless, he is a firm participant in school activities. He bids fair to be a possible member of our baseball team, for athletics, baseball, and basketball are his favorites. We hope that Ned and Fred may make as good students as Fred has shown himself to be.

GEORGE W. WATSON

Athletic Ass'n, Booster Club, Glee Club, Dramatics, T-Club, H-Y.

The best natured boy in the senior class, George is a glutton for life in the highest degree. He is a brilliant entertainer, and besides his natural gift of voice, he has a line that would choke the most skeptical of fish. He has it for the sheer pleasure of boasting, works for the joy of it, and succeeds because he tries to.

EARL WAYNE

T-Walkers
"If men are to be successful they must be independent," so says Earl, and lives up to it. Nevertheless he is often the center of attraction. He is a most dependable T-Walker. Earl certainly is crowned with a mass of curly brown hair. When he likes a girl he doesn't care if the world knows it.

WINIFRED WEST

Demure, quiet, pleasing in conversation, because she offers no competition to one's flow of words such is Winnie. Although she is studious to the nth degree, still, Winifred is quite athletic and very entertaining when her seemingly dignified exterior is penetrated.

ED WRIGHT

Glee Club, Swimming, Athletic Ass'n
Ed is a student of note. At least he poses as one, as he is now winning Social Problems, Business English and Modern History. He is an athletic star and a member of this year's swimming team. He sang first bass in the school choir. Ed in the past has been involved in the Boy Scout movement.

EVELYN WEST

T-Club, Debate, Athletic Ass'n
Evelyn is a whole encyclopedia of facts. She well represented Tulsa High in Caesar at the Mexican meet by placing first. She has won a place of distinction among her classmates for her unusual scholarship record. Evelyn has had a time with the pronunciation of her name, but she finally decided that she doesn't care how it is pronounced, she'll change it sometime anyway. Her pet hobby is hiking.

JAMES W. WOODWARD

Athletic Association
It sure has her favorites! James Woodward is one, and he certainly has been favored with a democratic spirit, a good character, and a faculty for getting the most there is in a thing. His secret ambition is to succeed John Levi as the greatest Indian football star since Jim Thorpe.

KATHERINE WILSON

Athletic Ass'n, T-Walkers
Nothing is sufficiently strong to stand in the way of Katherine and the fulfillment of her wishes when she matches her ingenuity against Adversity's skill. So it is in all her work, she makes a success of whatever she attempts. Katherine is one of Mr. Thomas's formerettes and one of Mr. Loewher's salesladies. Katherine has a line like a post office pen.

NORMAN WRIGHT

Athletic Association, Hi-Y
This lad is of the sleek variety, "sleek hair," immaculate clothing and a blasé air. He has been the living cause of many a young lady's racing heart. He is a bold and brazen student. In Mr. Loewher's salesmanship class, he could sell us furnaces on the Fourth of July, if he showered us with one of his most pleasing smiles.

ELIZABETH WARD

Debate, Girl Reserves, Senate, T-N-T School Life

Quiet and reserved yet bubbling over with pep and good humor is Minnie. She is a shark at debating but T-N-T is her Waterloo. An all around good student with a graduation that turns countless students green with envy. An able first lieutenant for Tulsa School Life.

LUTHER WILLIAMS

Hi-Y, Athletic Ass'n, Debate

a chance at publicity when Luther's editing his own paper.

BIRDIE WHITE

Athletic Association, Dramatics
Vow through clamor to hear Dr. Gregory's wonderful interpretations of Shakespearean drama, but how much greater would be the mad rush of the uncounted multitudes were they once to hear the inspiring, soulful and intense portrayal of the unhappy Juliet by Birdie. This exceptional talent of Birdie should excuse Birdie's lack of punctuality to the prolix materialism of her home room duties.

ROY WELLS

Roy is so optimistic that he would smile if all of his front teeth were out. At least he is never in a despondent mood. Why should he be so when he can get by on his personality and be liked for it. He is more interested in art than in any of his other subjects. He specializes in driving his friends to the entertaining Land.

DOROTHY WINKLER

Girl Reserves, T-Walkers, Tom Tom
Dorothy is magnetic and possesses much of that dynamic quality which makes her indeed a friend to all who know her. Her work on the Kodak Staff of the Tom Tom made possible many of the clever snapshots in the book. She is a loyal worker in all Girl Reserve activities. She never appears apart from Helen Venable.

DORIS WOOTEN

A real girl. She casts a demurely wicked wit needle, leads a hot basket and sings sweetly. She is a gift at keeping on the good side of teachers. She is a good pal too, in every way. Doris is fond of crushes, just ask her about some of them. She enjoys getting out in wide open spaces, returning to the city to speak. But she takes her pull along.

FERN WALKER

Own him. I even—that irresistible combination—that makes for popularity, even in a class. She came from Drumright last year, but it doesn't take a girl like her long to get in adjusted.

ARTHUR WIDELY

Athletic Assn. Stage Club. Honest effort has been the means by which a gentleman with a fairly assembled brain apparatus has attained the unobtainable. For mental exercise he has assumed the role of a most successful jumper as in H 2. He is indispensable as one of our English department members.

FENSE WHITLEY

Away, Monte out on. Practically speaking, Fense is nothing less than a lovely statue, strong, immeasurably graceful. Practically speaking, her graceful and agouty as an athlete has been well exhibited as forward on the Senior Girls basketball team. Fense is another one of those explosives from the Teacher Training Department.

STANLEY WASILOWSKI

Stanley is one of Schopenhauer's dandy wit. This student was blessed with more brains, especially along scientific lines. His sincere and steady work bears a proof that he takes life seriously. He knows he will never misuse Science of being in various.

NELL WOOD

Athletic Assn. Booster Club. Nell is our never serious little girl who cheers us morning, noon, and night. She has shown much interest and exceptional talent in music and we hope most emphatically that she will make good use of this talent. Nell's loyalty and school spirit has been prominent in her school life.

LESTER WILBY

Dramatic T. H. S. Student. A worker of the land, he has brought home the wild and the primal. Of sunny disposition, capable of pulling an unexpected joke and agreeably surprised when one comes to him. Lester is one of the thin, popular.

WALTER WITTE

After a month as the grave, good student, Walter has been a member of the T. H. S. at delving into the old language and conveying intricate.

JOHN WANKLY

One of our well known and popular well liked athletes. He plays a good game of football and an exceptional game of basketball. He has gained much popularity in this manner. The T. H. S. spirit has cured him of a recent. We hope soon day to see starting as a pitcher in the big leagues.

INEL WOOD

Athletic Assn., Girl Reserve, Booster Club, T. H. S. Inel is one of the quiet members of the class but a sweeter and kinder girl would be hard to find. She did not attend T. H. S. during her junior year when her changing personality was sadly missed. However, luck was with her and she has returned in time to complete the class of '24. May the best be with her always.

WILLIAM WHITE

Julius Caesar, Napoleon, Bonaparte, etc. He is one of a kind and he doesn't mind keeping the greatest notebook in school. He is the gayest and the most of the Senior class. We hope to see him always think of him as an old and good member of Tulsa High.

MRS. MARGIE WHITE

She occupies a position unique among High School seniors. Although married, and the mistress of a happy home, Mrs. White is enrolled as a senior and will graduate this year. Mrs. White is taking a commercial course and working as Miss Clara Kimble's secretary in her spare time. Her object is to fit herself to hold a position in the business world. In spite of her efficiency and ambition, however, her favorite topic of conversation is her home.

VIRGINIA WHITE

T-Club, T-Club
The power of an interesting personality coupled with a wonderful soprano voice is well shown in the case of Virginia. She is known throughout the school as the girl with the lovely voice. We predict a successful career in grand opera for her. We can't imagine where she obtained her name but it fits her. It's so odd.

CHARLES WHITNEY

Wrestling, Ath. Assn., Interclass Football
Charles is not so big in stature but he undertook several deeds which would cause a brave man to think twice and then do nothing. With his good friend Lesage Danforth he went through the Rockies earned admiration for his prowess and set his mind toward another escapade possibly through the Alps. It would take an old man's ear to hear some being disconcerted about Charles.

ERCEL YOUNG

T-Club, Athletic Assn.
Erkel is a most brilliant cut up, with an unusual sense of humor and a teasing personality. He is a good worker in the woodwork and mechanical drawing departments. He represented Tulsa High in wood turning at Norman last spring. This gentleman is a believer in Eugene Wesley's famous anti-termite dust.

ELIAN YOUNG

T-Club, Athletic Assn., French Club
Here is a remarkable record. Elian entered Tulsa High as a Junior in the fall and represented us at New Haven the following spring in French, bringing home first honors. As Elian is inclined to be somewhat modest, she attributes this extraordinary ability to the fact that she had previous educational training. Only French is spoken.

RUTH ZINK

Athletic Assn., Girl Reserves
Ruth has that remarkable manly independent spirit we all admire but seems never to acquire. Her studiousness is unusual in one as light hearted and gay as she. We know in later years she'll be managing a business office or a bank.

CHARLES ZIMMERMANN

We have long been searching for the exceptional student and have found him in the person of none other than our good friend Charles. He is a favorite among the boys and is regarded as a shining Oriskany by more than one girl. Charles has aptly demonstrated that mere size is not the real worth of an athlete, but that one's prowess in the field of athletics depends upon fast work, clear headedness, and good sportsmanship.

MARGARET DEBBS

T-Club, National Honor Society, Athletic Assn., Girl Reserves

At last we have found that much sought after, always wished for combination—beauty, student personality, pep and ability. Margaret plays the piano, some studies a good deal and loves a lot (several). Her favorite sport is auto riding but she doesn't do the driving. We know of several who would name her the class sweetest. We agree with the several.

FRANK DOYLE

Frank is the young man who sleeps through most of his classes, especially psychology. His brilliant hair, however, compensates for his lack of animation in school. He entered high school from St. Joseph's Academy last semester.

EVA ECKSTON

Eva is another girl destined for a business career. She is a blond with something on her mind besides her hair. Her grades are always excellent, especially those she strikes in typing and kindred subjects. She will be a fine addition to someone's office one of these days.

MEYER HIRNBAUM

Debating, Athletic Assn., T-Club, Latin Club
Meyer is a real student and many marvel at how oft he is pointed out to Freshmen with cynical and wistful eyes, as the pinnacle of their hopes. Meyer was one of Franklin's best last year and his oratorical powers have won for him a name of merit for which he is justly praised. He hopes to hang up a shingle some day.

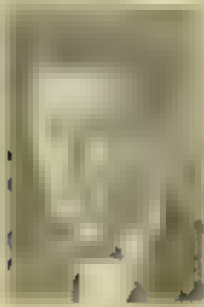

WALTER BETHUNE

Hunt, Athletic Assn.
A hunting dog will go—says Walter and the fleet hounds by day or the prowler at night move their sleeping grounds or surrender their beings. He is a fortune in hunting with him in school and we believe the future is capable of caring for itself. Those who know him liked him and those who did not stayed watching.

RALPH BERRYMAN

His distinguishing trait is his vest without a coat as a partner. Mentally he leans strongly toward science being one of them there chemistry sharks and that statement is not a bluff. He doesn't advertise his statements to the world and for that reason he is not well known but we would think that if he were to pursue science he will end up somewhere he wouldn't.

TED BUCHANAN

Valedictorian Association

Ted must forcibly denounce the popular fantasy that the beauty of having a thing well done is the satisfaction of having done it, and he certainly does reap the fruits of other person's labor especially peaches, as he is very fond of that queen of fruit. However, he finds his attention and has achieved a name for himself among the seniors as a member of the second string of football and as a popular boxer.

PAUL COURNEY

Paul is the rival of Donald Ross for the title of the biggest jelly of Tulsa High. Whenever he goes he is surrounded by a group of "wing" girls. Among his many other assets or liabilities, is his ability for escaping work and at bluffing a teacher into thinking he knows something he takes the cockade. Paul blooms out surprisingly in Psychology now and then.

FRANK MCGUIGAN

F. Club, Athletic Assn.

Radiating, radio, Frank, always happy, always smiling, with something worthwhile to say. He is characterized by sound judgment, practical sense and power of clear, subtle, penetrating thought. Frank is now a business man and a budding architect, having completed graduation requirement at mid-

JUNE CHANDLER

June has been with us only one short year but in that time she has won numerous friends and admirers. She is noted for her dimples and her quiet and gentle manner. June is not the kind of person to boast, but one instinctive knows she can be depended upon.

EVERETT CALHOUN

Athletic Association

Everett is a recent but valuable addition to our most enterprising senior class, and has lost no time in becoming lost in the whirl of its intricate and bewildering labyrinth. He is a very popular member of our aspiring social set, and his hot shot line has won him the name - the boy who wore a woven suit and looked sheepish. He is interested in science and mechanics and aspires to be an engineer.

RODGERS CARTER

One half of the "Carter Brothers." Rodgers is renowned for his singing ability. His jazz interpretations fairly pull you from your chair and cause you to "wanna shake your feet." If Rodgers can't play a harp, he can lull St. Peter to sleep with a song and get into the "pearly gates." Rodgers is a very clever and witty Senior with a row of admirers a mile long.

MARGARET KING

Margaret is destined to be a future leader along the lines of criminology and social research. Mr. Wardell in his first semester Social Problems class, implanted this ambition in her trusting young heart and she retained by walking off with second prize in the Social Problems essay contest. Her originality, pep and general spirit of enthusiasm go to make Margaret one of the most interesting girls in the class of '24.

THE DORE KIFFE

F. Club, Ath. Assn., Nat. Hon. Society

Analyst. And all attained thru hard, conscientious work. Thruout his four years with us, he has repeatedly won highest honors for sheer scholastic attainment, and has represented the school in physiography and chemistry and brought back honors to the school each trip. There he is a retiring student who has rendered more service to the school in proportion with his praise than any other individual.

LENN KUELLMEYER

A perfect blonde with a decided aversion to history. There isn't space here to tell of the many good qualities and achievements of this popular girl, so the best plan seems to be to say that she is well liked and popular. She likes athletics and is a good basketball player. Lenn and Laverne form a team which cannot be beaten.

KAY KELLY

Athletic Assn., Dramatics

Our high school "Bendu Brummel" should shun Cupid's darts, for fear one will pierce his heart. Shaffer and Mary.

Kay is a quishing young Lorenson and more are those who own him to be the author of their first hesitating steps into the land of dancing fantasy. Dramatics is his dish. Kay never lets studies interfere with his high school education.

RAMA KELLY

Mendelssohn Club

Rama is a cousin of the illustrious Kay, but has made a name for herself. She is a veritable whirlwind of laughter and good humor and some say she has pugilistic tendencies when dealing with certain nines. Rama is a worker and her individualistic manner has won her a large circle of friends. She is especially noted for her handiness.

LEE KAY

Pioneer Club, Ath. Assn., Girl Reserve

Tee laughs a little, sings a little, flirts a little too, but there is nothing sweet and beautiful Tee would not do for you. She is a clever and attractive girl and has a line of admirers which would reach the length of B. Corridor. She is much loved and appreciated because of her willingness to serve. May this sterling quality ever be hers.

CAREY McDONALD

Band, Orchestra, Athletic Assn.

We don't know whether Carey intends to be a musician or to doctor sick folks, for in his one year here he has devoted much time to the practice of both activities, but whichever profession he chooses is bound to be improved by his being in it.

VIRGINIA WALKER

Virginia came to Tulsa High this semester from Stillwater. She has a charming personality and is well known for her originality and persistence. Making good grades in English and acting as an assistant librarian are just a few of her accomplishments. She is liked by all who know her.

MONA WATSON

Athletic Assn., Y. W. C. A., Girl Scouts.

The genuine spirit of optimism loved by all, Mona is nothing less than an intellectual dynamo. She is a member of this year's debating class and an important factor to the classes' success. Mona can be found at the very place where she wasn't the minute before; she is so much in demand. Mona is a computer, not a Girl Scout, and a deserving student.

LUCIAN WOROBINSKY

Debate, T. Club, H. Y.

Lucian is not only a debater of no mean ability, but is also graduating in three and a half and drives a new Oakland with a dexterity which surprises the most optimistic. He has an avowed aversion to certain types of music and women, and a determined inclination towards eating and politics. His work with Houder's Haranguers has been highly meritorious, as has been his service in several departments of school.

JUNIOR CLASS

Now listen to the history
 Of the famous Junior Class
 In the years of Tulsa High School
 May its memory never pass

Now and scared we were as Freshmen,
 And we surely were quite green
 Even though we since have climbed
 To win such high esteem

Now as Sophs we made a record
 In foot and basketball
 Even in the swimming contest
 Boys and girls won honors all

Each contestant sent away
 To Norman for the meet
 Never failed to win first place
 In physical or mental feat

Speak not of the worthy Seniors
 Speak not of the Freshmen green
 With Miss Mullen as our sponsor
 We can't help but be supreme

Extra fine we thought our drama
 All Juniors in the cast
 No play has ever been produced
 The "Charm School" to surpass

Speak not of your pow-wows many
 The one we had was great
 You can't imagine all the things
 Those hungry Seniors ate

Fortune's sure to smile on us
 To be Seniors is our aim,
 In life we'll keep on working
 Till we reach the Hall of Fame

Now owing ever to be loyal,
 As on we daily strive,
 Each one true to Tulsa High

THE GOOGLE TRAGEDY

Oh! Harken all ye gentlemen
And I'll spoof you on something gay
My story is of Bonnie Barney Google
And his steed of dapple grey

The steed's name was Spark Plug
An' he ran a wicked race
He didn't care for Barney's women
So he carried a doleful face

He galloped a race the other day
With a girl called Sassy Suse
Her feet were cold so she laid down
And the berries she did lose

Now Bonnie Barney Google
Is sitting in the tounce
He has 50 000 plunkets
And for a woman he'll fa' soome

Soon there came a dame
Whom men called Baby Lou
So Cupid romped on Barney
And he fell as a' men do

To him she gave a vampish look
That wicked Baby Lou
Barney grabbed his pounding heart
And fell as a' men do

Then in the door there burst
The true love of Baby Lou,
He grabbed Bonnie Barney Google
And out the door him threw

Oh! Long may Sparky weep
For his master saw much to see
For he has gone as a' men do
And ne'er will hame come he

CLASS HISTORY

The class of '26 looks back with satisfaction on the completion of its Sophomore year, under the leadership of Donald Graham, President, Oscar Grimes, Vice President, Betty Neely, Secretary, Gordon Fleetwood, Treasurer, with Calvin Tinney and Richard Chauncey representing the class in the Senate. It proved successfully to every one the interest that Sophomores take in class and school activities.

Calvin Tinney won first place in an English composition contest on 'The Ten Best Books I Ever Read'. He also represented the school in the Standard Oration contest at McAlester, Oklahoma. Lois Kahn won first place in the Dramatic Reading contest both at Okmulgee and Tulsa, making her the state winner. The Sophomore football team won the championship in interclass football and all the boys received numerals.

The Thrift Contest on 'Five Reasons Why a High School Student Should Be Thrifty,' was won by Helen Long, Mary Herpshorne being a close second.

The class float with its colors of rose and grey tied for first place in the football parade and was an effective representation of heroes of all lands paying homage to a medieval queen who crowned the football hero.

We cannot help but express the appreciation due our class director, Miss Frances Cary, for her faithfulness and untiring interest in the class and her loyal support in all its undertakings.

ODE TO A SKYLARK

Oh, bend— as swift as the day
 Carry all my cares away
 On thy journey from the ground

Roaring torrent— tinkling rills,
 Ah! my heart with rapture thrills
 All express'd so clear and fine,
 When I hear thy note divine
 On thy journey to the ground

When the sun in west is set
 When the moon with dew is wet,
 Weepst through the night
 Thy daytime flight
 Witness to the ground

I from Shelley doth thee see

FRESHMAN HISTORY

Tulsa High School held its breath as we the eight hundred clamored into school last September. We met dignified Seniors, Juniors and Sophomores on every side. Were we frightened? No! Our pep has never seen an equal.

We found our faithful sponsor, Miss Floy Elliott, waiting to guide us through the storm. For our officers we soon chose Russell Hunt, president; Dorothy Harre, vice-president; Gwendolyn Bowden, treasurer, and Virginia Blue, secretary.

At mid-semester we heartily welcomed three hundred freshmen boys. Miss Elliott turned the guidance of our boat over to our tactful president, and we settled down to themes and pink-slips.

We have covered large regions in athletics. The Freshman class football team showed up well in the fall, winter class contests, and the basketball boys won first place in the class "D," inter-class games.

Eddie Weinstein and Mary Jane Thompson brought honors to our class by winning prizes in theme contests.

Our class, of course, stands for the best, and in our four years in Tulsa High it is our ambition that we will be looked upon as a class full of the real Tulsa high school spirit.

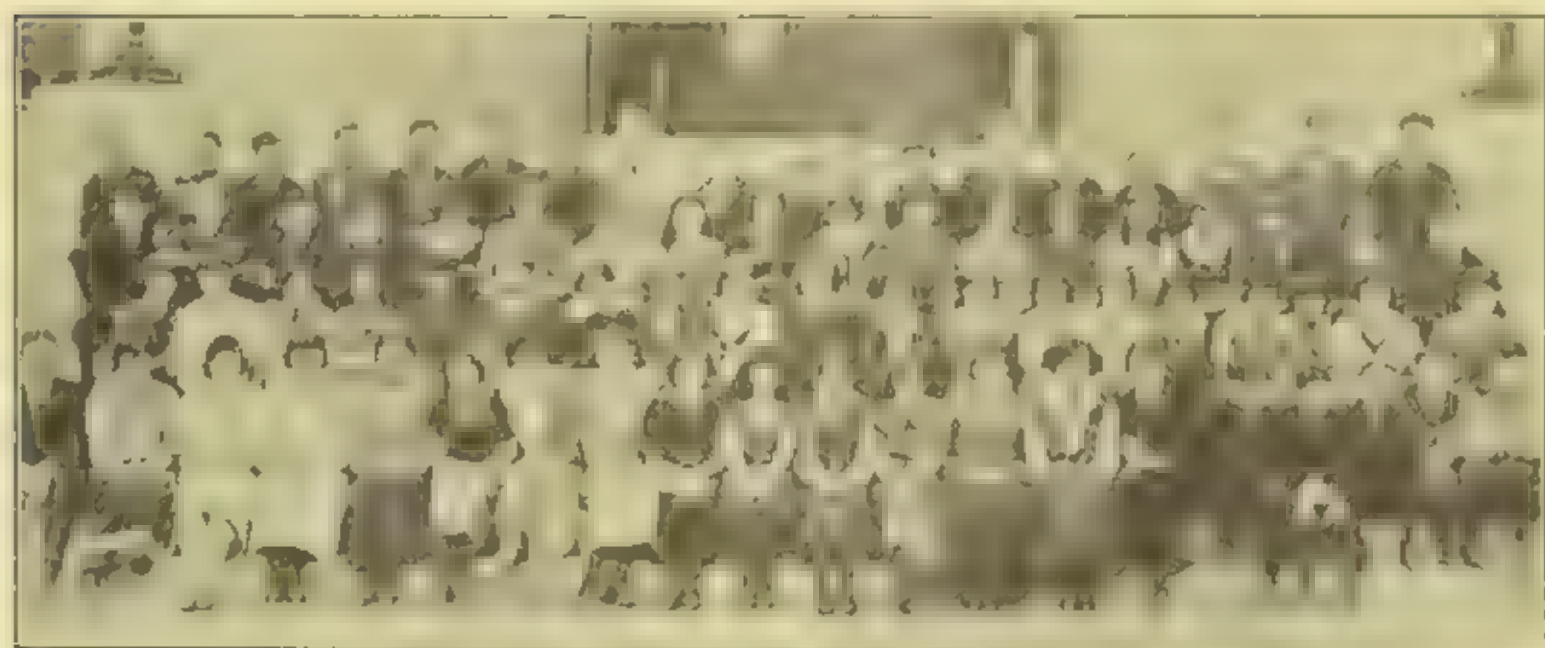

With our sponsor's aid we have selected a most helpful motto: "Tulsa High School will be in 1927 what we are willing to make it, and we hope that the seniors of 1927 will prove worthy citizens of tomorrow."

SUMMARY OF 1923 SEASON

Tulsa, 152 - Skiatook, 0

The Crimson and Cream snowed the fast Skiatook team under an avalanche of touchdowns. It was a good start for T. H. S.

Tulsa, 33 - Bristow, 0

The "wonder team" from the "wonder city" held our machine for three quarters, but class finally told.

Tulsa, 51 - Kieter, 0

The Tulsa regulars played one quarter and accounted for 27 points. The squad continued the good work.

*Tulsa, 9 - Blackwell, 0

Tulsa journeyed to Blackwell and in one of the best games of the year defeated them decisively.

*Tulsa, 15 - Bartlesville, 0

Bartlesville was the scene of the Braves' second conference victory. The game was a muddy affair, nothing spectacular appearing.

Tulsa, 19 - Ramona, 6

Ramona came to Lee Stadium next and went home losers. Several regulars were kept out of the game for Sapulpa.

*Tulsa, 3 - Sapulpa, 0

Before 10,000 people, Tulsa defeated the Jonesmen on their own field by a one field goal margin. It was undoubtedly the most thrilling game of the current season.

*Tulsa, 17 - Oklahoma City, 6

Oklahoma City held our men to 17 points and scored on them. Tulsa showed Oklahoma City an exhibition of spectacular football.

Tulsa, 53 - Okmulgee, 0

The "Bulldogs" expected to win but ———, our visitors did not make a first down and completed but one pass.

Tulsa, 64 - McAlester, 6

The regulars played a few minutes and ran up the score and the second team took up the burden. T. H. S. made five touchdowns in five minutes.

Tulsa, 43 - Muskogee, 0

The Green and White visited the Magic City and prayed for rain. It snowed. Tulsa was clearly outplayed during the first quarter, but for the last three quarters it was a walkaway for the Braves.

The year of "home" work for the season was reached when he was called to the captaincy of the 1924 Braves. Still in the most aggressive center fielder high has been privileged to watch for many years, Kaprielian on the defense. With his back seat year leading the team, Lujan which should be well above par. Kaprielian also earned a prize on several all-star selections, by virtue of his consistent work throughout the season.

E. F. LUCKSONS

PHILIP GRIMS

The quarterback has been considered the most difficult position at the football team. The man who held this post in our Cuban high was a first unit performer. A specialist of the man for Cuban high played a spectacular game. He was a first unit player and one of the speedy of the team as well as to be a general. A workhorse on the field runner who applied through the opposing defense as if it were a piece of paper. He played out of the air in a manner that is unique.

TABLE INCONTINUED

[illegible]

CHARLES COLORTI

C. F. (N.K.) + S. K. (N.K.) = 84.144

Fullback senior, age 19, height 5'7", weight, 132 lbs.
It is the general thought that the two largest men on the football team play center and fullback but not even in the case of Chas. Cooper, who plays a wonder in game after game weighing less than many other members of the team. Chas. is undoubtedly the technique of football player in practice. He was the hardest man on the team to tackle, his punting and kickstarting being very good for him. Chas. earned an all state position but at last he put in the whole season at all

1439-1451

When it came to running back punts, Roy was a most capable performer. No one can forget his long runs in the Mustang game. Roy says he runs either for the thrill of it or for the love of it, for the love of the horse or for the fear of being tackled. Selby was also a dangerous runner in the receiving ends of Jake's passes, as well as a deadly tackler. Roy will return next year.

JOHN BROOKS

Left end, senior, age 17, height 5'10", weight 165 lbs.
Wathorse for short, and many are the football players who agree with the title. John was in every game making backs on end runs, carrying the ball on a line circle and above all punting out of the danger zones. John could always get off a good punt. In the Sapulpa game he kept them away from our goal after Cape Bill had made his place kick. In the Muskogee game he sent the water marked and mud-covered ball far down the field many times. John will be back at end again next year.

HINCH MARKOVITZ

Right end, senior, age 18, height 5'9", weight 150 lbs.
Duke will be remembered by the opponents of Tulsa High as a hard tackler and a perfect blocker. He was well down under punts and seldom missed his mark. He was a head and was very seldom heard in the middle of the play. We feel that end is a most important position and Hinch filled it. Duke had the opportunity to circle his end.

HINCH MARKOVITZ

Left tackle, senior, age 17, height 5'10", weight 162 lb.
Raw Meat is the worst name many of the team were giving him at every stage of the game and never protesting in any decision. Paul earned his football three years ago and has made a letter every year since. When a hole was to be plugged in the line Paul came around and he then filled it. Although not a spectacular player, he was one of the team's stars. He was a real asset in Tulsa's championship season. He should prove a good player in college football.

EDDIE MARTIN

Right guard, senior, age 19, height 5'10", weight 153 lbs.
Enthusiasm showed up well in the Muskogee game playing hard and fast, fighting for possession of the ball when it was close to our goal and recovering fumbles. Eddie covered the ball closely covering up plays at every stage of the game. He was one of the most dependable of Coach Rau's cohorts when a hole was to be filled. He played well in every game and was one of the best men in the game.

Left guard, senior, age 19, height 5'11", weight 151 lbs.
Bill at left guard helped make one of the best offensive and defensive lines in Oklahoma football history. He is adept at knocking through the opposition, making a hole for his backfield runner or blocking and tackling opposing runners. Bill missed an all state berth because injuries kept him out of a number of games, although he played goal ball at Oklahoma City with an injured leg. Bill was one of Coach Rau's mainstays in the line and in the back.

BILL DRAIN

JAMES BURHANS

Right guard, senior, age 17, height 5'10", weight 154 lbs.
Jimmy should have been a member of the regulars, but because of the old team members left from last year he was forced to be content with any position at any time. Jimmy probably saved our goal from being crossed in the Muskogee game and showed up well at Sapulpa, playing the full game.

JAMES BURHANS

Reading from left to right

1923 FOOTBALL SQUAD

The squad of 23 worked perfectly into a first and second team. When the regulars were able to roll up a large score early in the fray, the seconds were inserted and usually carried the battle to the invaders. Indeed, the regulars were kept going at top speed for fear of losing their berth to some hard working second team man. The scrubs deserve a lot of credit, for it was they who furnished opposition for the regulars, it was they who filled the breach in case of injury to one of Rau's old reliables.

Mention should be made here of the efficient work of Assistant Coach Roy Inbody. He coached the second team and was a prominent factor in the brilliant success of Tulsa high. A more conscientious helper for Mr. Rau cannot be found.

All in all, Tulsa high school Braves enjoyed a highly successful season, and the machine was just as strong as its weakest link, so it can be seen that there could not have been a weak link on the team. The Braves played one for all and all for one, truly a perfect epitome for teamwork.

INTER-CLASS CHAMPIONS

SENIOR HEAVYWEIGHTS

HEAVYWEIGHT FOOTBALL SEASON

The championship in the heavyweight division was contested by two teams, the juniors and seniors. The sophomores and freshmen were among those present forming respectively in the percentage column. The seniors presented the class of the division, defeating the juniors in the play-off 6-0 after a 0-0 tie the week previous. The seniors landed five men on the first all-class team. Coach Bolvard's huskie also encountered outside teams, conquering Skiatook abroad 6-0, and Avant 34-6. The juniors, led by Captains W.ington and Burrell, played good ball.

SOPHOMORE LIGHTWEIGHTS

Second row—P. Grimes, Carleton, Renfro, Harris, Clifford, Ledford, Krasse, Graham, O. Grimes, Captain.
Top row—Doling, Marshall, Custer, Bynum.

LIGHTWEIGHT FOOTBALL SEASON

When the lightweight football schedule was completed, the sophomores and juniors were found to be on top, and in the play-off the sophs won a spectacular game, 7-3. The winners played hard, consistent football all season, while the juniors played in streaks. The seniors finished strongly at the wire, but lack of practice and team-work early in the season prevented a higher standing. Coach Shupbach's freshmen were too small to handle the heavier teams, and consequently wound up in the cellar. On the whole, the season was one of color.

INDIVIDUAL CAPTAINS

PHIL O GRIMES, Truck
 DELBERT McCULLOUGH, Basketball.

JAKE INGRAHAM, Tennis
 JOHNNY MULLINS, Baseball

BILL MOORE, Football
 PAUL WASHINGTON, Wrestling

BASEBALL

CAPTAIN DELBERT McCULLOUGH

As the leader of Tulsa's cagers, and as a potent factor in the team's success, Delbert meets with hearty approval of the student body. He was a brilliant dribbler and his passing was at times uncanny. Del had an eagle eye for the ring, and scored heavily of T. H. S. Tulsa loses a valuable man when McCullough graduates.

SCOTT SAPIPHNIEFF

Scott was the best long shot on the team. Often his distance tries ended with a merry crash of the basket rim. He landed a berth on the second all state team, mainly because of his shooting ability. Sapsieff will be remembered as being instrumental in the last half victory over Sapulpa in the district tournament, ending the Cronson and Cronson contingent to attend the state tournament at Norman.

BILL FLOTTIPS

Bill's height stood him in good stead when jumping or playing around the key. Bill's ability to drop the ball in the basket after his elevated rebound was a high light in the success of Tulsa's cagers. When "Whizzer" got mad, things began to move rapidly. Bill has a hard time getting started but in the latter half of the season he was hard to beat. Okmulgee defeated Bill's team here.

BILL MOORE

Filling a guard position for the Cronsons was Bill Moore. Bill played a very good brand of defensive ball throughout the season, although his ability at working the floor was not great. The Muskogee scouts thought a lot of Bill, and it was his best exhibition for the season, as he led the team to a victory for the first game. Bill receives his diploma this spring.

CHARLES COE MURPHY

Seeing his second year on the team, Charles proved that he knew as much basketball as any man in the state by his wonderful guarding and floor work. Charles' best exhibition was his guarding of Morris at Sapulpa in the three games that they met. Clem was also quite an expert from the free line. A berth on the third all state team was given to Charles for his meritorious work in the state tournament, although the team only reached the second round.

JAKE INGRAHAM, CAPTAIN ELECT

Jake was the leader of the fighting Crimson seconds, and an able leader he made too. Jake was lightning fast, and possessed a wonderful eye for the ring. Jake was also the most capable sub for the first team, and in this capacity he showed to an advantage in the state tournament. He will be back next year to lead the team to a good showing is insured.

BURTON JORDAN

'Not such a bad fellow' Burton. Peppy, cheerful and a T. H. S. brawler. What more could a girl ask? Burton's high ambition at school was always to earn a 'T' in basketball - and so he did in his senior year. A fellow who realizes his ambitions. We will probably hear of Burton in the future.

ROY SELBY

'Country' is noted for the spring in his legs. Roy was the center on the reserves, and he made several appearances with the first string men. Selby was an important cog in the teamwork of the crimson seconds, and coupled this with a dead eye for the basket, and you can see why he was important to the team. Roy is with us yet another year.

WILLIAM KELLY

Bid, may be big, but he sure plays basketball. It was very seldom that an opposing forward could break away from Bid long enough to tally a basket for he stuck to his man like fly paper. Kelly knows the technical points of the game and should be one of the best guards in the state next year.

PHILO GRIMES

Philo decided to play basketball this year and he did a very good job of his decision. 'Sonpy' was fast and often outguessed any aspiring forward and secured the ball. Ismael of Jon's can testify as to the ability of Philo, as this scintillant performer secured only one basket in this game, and that after Grimes was injured. This is Philo's last year in T. H. S.

BASKETBALL SQUAD

Second row—Grimes, Jordan, Mark, Ingraham, Selby, Kelly

Back row—McCracken, Robbins, Murray, Bradley, Jones, Frisborn, Quinn, Cummings

BASKETBALL SEASON

With five letter men back, Tulsa high was insured a successful season. Playing a hard schedule of games, Tulsa was runnerup in the eastern division of the conference, only losing to the Sapulpan on their own court after a desperate battle, 15-16. Rau's eagles won the district tournament and entered the state tournament where they later won the championship from Oklahoma City by the same score. One of the highlights of the season was the hard working Crimson seconds won seven games and only lost to Ramona on the latter's court. They defeated the Sapulpa seconds twice and numbered the fast Jenks and Owasso squads among their victims.

In the selection for all-state teams Scott Sappenfield was placed at forward on the second team, while Charlie Goforth earned a position as guard on the third selection. Those earning "Ts" were: McCullough, Sappenfield, Phillips, Moore, Goforth, Ingraham, Jordan, Selby, Kelley and Grimes.

A—DIVISION

In the A division there was plenty of competition, but the Juniors seemed to have the best of the argument. By defeating the Seniors in a stiff contest, the third year men captured the championship of A-I. The Seniors managed to defeat the Juniors enough times to win numerals in A-II.

B—DIVISION

Owing to a great wealth of material Coach Norgan was able to round out two well balanced squads to capture both ends of the B division. The Juniors won both B-I and B-II. The competition was furnished in this class by the Seniors.

C—DIVISION

The "C" division basketball squads were stronger and more developed this year than ever before. The Juniors under Coach Travis won both the C-I and C-II championships. Competition was greater in the division than in the A, B, and D classes. The Seniors, Juniors and Sophomores all had very strong teams and real basketball talent was displayed in this division.

D—DIVISION

In the small division, it is usually hard to pick the best team, but not so in the case of the Freshmen this year. This group of youngsters mastered the technique of the game and presented a fast and clever combination. They were all good shots at the ring, and all in all were a team well deserving the numerals emblematic of the championship of D-I. The D-II championship was won by the Sophomores.

HISTORY OF SEASON

Tulsa's track squad under the guardianship of Coach Otto J. Endres came through with seven men winning letters and with material for a team next year. A new captain was elected to fill the vacancy of Captain Bowen, who was forced to quit school. Philo Grimes, pole vault, was elected and did well in leading the men although he did not win a letter. The first track meet was held with Nowata and Bartlesville. Tulsa came out on the long end of this meet. Adkinson was high point man of the meet winning the 100 and 220 yard dashes. The next meet was for conference championship, Oklahoma City was the winner, Tulsa coming in a second. At the state meet Tulsa was fourth, the meet was close and never cinched until the final race, Oklahoma City nosing out Woodward by winning the mile relay, the last event.

In the last two meets Goforth and Hoey in the hurdle and 220 respectively, made the best showing for the team.

SUMMARY OF SEASON

In the second year of renewed baseball in Tulsa High the Braves captained by Johnny Mullins, who organized the junior team that represented the school last year, lead the team to two victories and one defeat.

In the opening game the Braves came through with a ten to five victory over Shamrock. The next game was dropped to Drumright by a score of six to two. This closed the team's local activities, and in the state meet they met and defeated Mustang eight to nothing. Because of the weather at the state meet no other games were played and thus the curtain was rung down on the season of 1924. The star pitching of Alderman was responsible for the victories of the team, but he is also charged with the defeat.

Tulsa's infield was one of the strongest in the state. Dub Jones at short was the star man on the offensive and defensive. Camblin at third, Mullins at second and Brooks at first were the other sack coverers. Leavitt last year's shortstop was shifted to the catching berth and did well in all the games played. The outfield was probably the weakest spot of the team but the fellows did well in shagging all the flies that came their way and were responsible for some of the runs made by the team. The outfield players were Quinn, Carr, Lowe and McBirney. Other pitchers with the team, who occupied the bench most of the time, were Lowe and Lehman.

TENNIS HISTORY

Tennis prominence came to Tulsa High with a rush. Last year, second place in the state tournament went to Ingraham in the singles and the entire team composed of Ingraham and Freeborn made a creditable showing. But this year a more brilliant effort resulted from the efforts of the Crimson and Cream netsters. Freeborn and Travis, in the doubles, won the state championship by defeating the Oklahoma City team in a close battle and swamped Nowata on the side. Captain Jake Ingraham displayed the fact that he was the best tennis man in state high schools, etc., when he won the state awards from the Oklahoma City representatives. All in all, Tulsa High had a very successful tennis season.

SWIMMING TEAM

Tulsa's Swimming team went through a very short season undefeated and unchallenged by any school. We met and defeated several schools of the state. No matches resulted from Coach Endres' efforts to get competition for the team and he then turned his attention to developing the boys for membership in the Junior Life Saving Club in

The team and experienced squad and fully capable of giving any team in the state a hard battle. The life-saving progressed very rapidly and many experienced men became full-pledged members of the Red Cross Junior Life Saving corps of the school.

WRESTLING SUMMARY

High school wrestling, as a two-year sport with Tulsa, has had a successful season in that practically all boys have improved their wrestling skills. They have gained confidence, improved their technique, and have learned the fundamentals of the sport. At the close of the season their efforts pointed toward next year to see their success rather than this year which has been devoted largely to the fundamentals of the sport.

Captain Washington and Whitney, the two two-year men, proved to be the mainstays of the "Moles" team. They have been successful in many of the matches of the year, and with the knowledge gained from their experience, they will be able to lead the team to a strong and fully developed team to carry on.

An opportunity to gauge their progress over the course of the season was gained when the Stillwater State meet was held during the middle of the year, and the repeated display of victory did not warrant their competition.

INTERCLASS WRESTLING

The second year of wrestling in Tulsa High marked an era of improvement for the squad and new material was uncovered in the interclass tournament that was conducted after the regular season closed. This tournament was featured by the hard work of the little fellows in disposing of their opponents in some of the most interesting bouts of the year. The heavy fellows did good work on the mat and deserve their victories because there were no set-ups or shrinking on the part of either.

Names and classification of winners follows

INTERCLASS BOXING

Although Tulsa was not represented by a boxing team, an interclass tournament was held which lasted more than a week and resulted in a lively finish. Mr. Simon in charge of the tournament, ran it off in a most efficient manner, ably aided by some of his boxing boys.

In the heavyweight division Bill Moore and Bill Phillips fought a tiger battle, indeed the battle of the century. Moore played the role of Dempsey and won the decision over Phillips although the latter fought nobly.

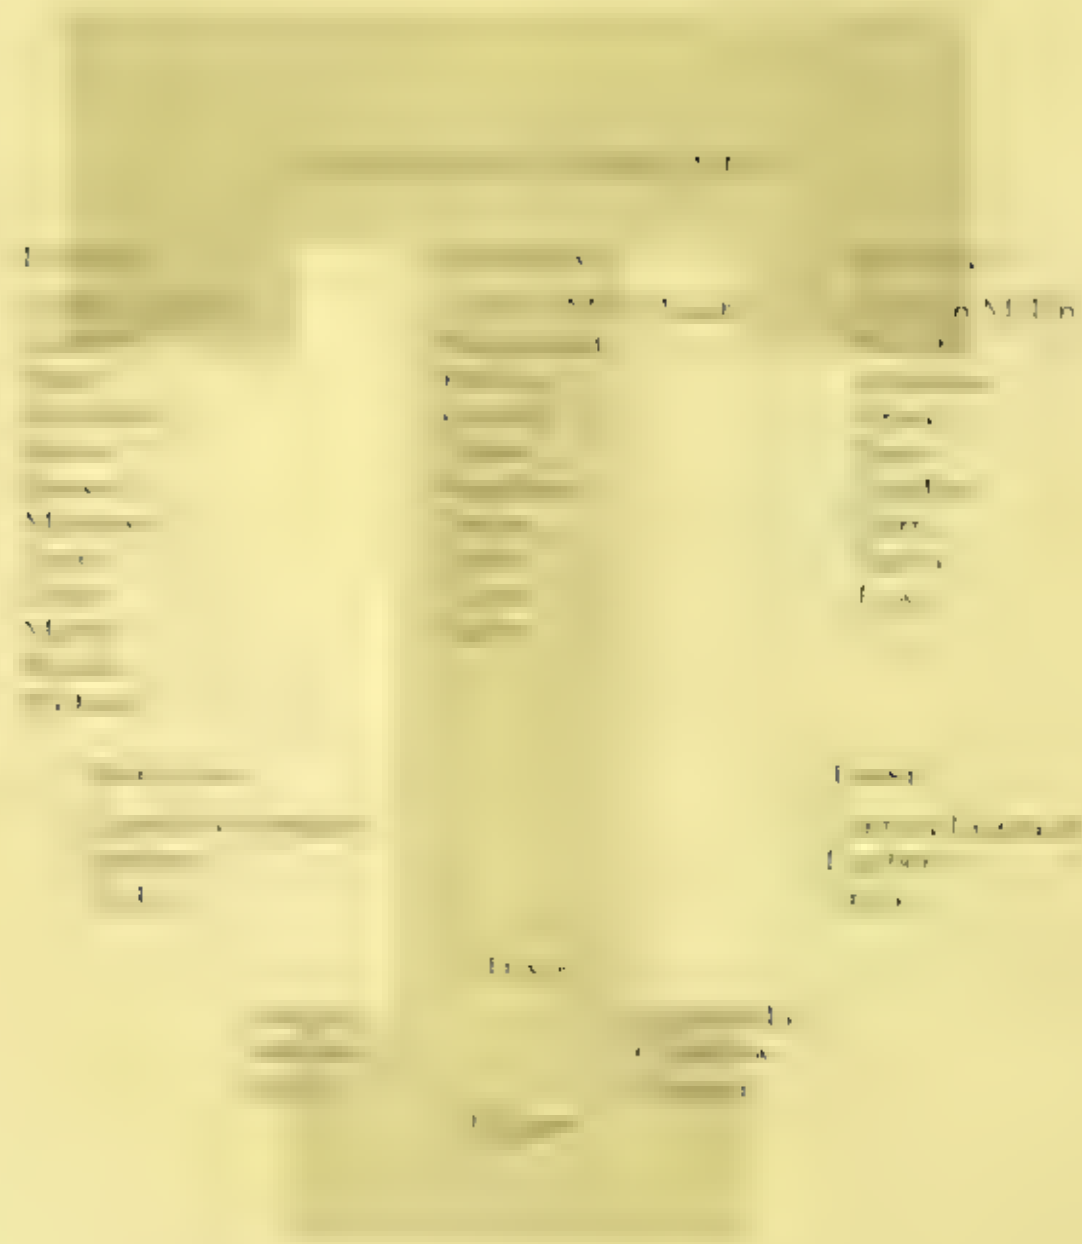

Curtain in the junior welterweight division displayed a thorough knowledge of the manly art of self-defense. He was one of the best entered and among the battlers were Hapenfield, Grimes, McCullough, Goforth, Jordan, Moore and others and they acquitted themselves nobly.

The result of the matches follows:

VOLLEY BALL

Volley ball, in spite of the fact that it was the first game of the season, was well supported by every class and on account of the closeness of the scores the entire series was highly exciting. In the final game the seniors came out victorious, winning all three sets in a manner worthy of their senior-istic prowess.

GIRLS ATHLETICS

The Girls Athletic Department of Tulsa High School was this year given its rightful name of "Health Education Department." Under the leadership of Miss Helen O. Carlson, this department has made rapid strides toward becoming a real factor in the health of every T. H. S. girl. Miss Carlson comes to us from Detroit, Mich., and has introduced many new methods, including a course in individual work which ministers to the particular need of the girl.

Not only has this department had as its mission the upbuilding of the physical girl, but it has also had the bigger task of working for good sportsmanship among the girls.

Too much honor could not be given the teachers, Miss Bertha Kirk, Miss Mildred Strohl, and Mrs. Willis Webber, of this department. In no department of the high school have the instructors worked more faithfully or interestedly than have these teachers, who have stayed at their post every afternoon coaching basketball games or after-school swimming classes. To them goes the honor of producing the best interclass teams that T. H. S. has ever had.

CAPTAIN BALL

Heretofore captain ball had been a slow game but this year it was one of the most exciting of all sports. The fact that it was a preliminary to basketball added to its favor. The Seniors lived up to their reputation and carried off first place, winning by a large score. But the underclassmen deserve much credit for the manner in which they played. They kept the Seniors on their toes every moment and put up a stiff fight until the last whistle was blown.

BASKET BALL

From the preliminary basketball games, the Seniors and Juniors were triumphant over the underclassmen. In the games with the Freshmen however, the Juniors won by so much larger percentage than did the Seniors that the Juniors seemed assured of victory in the finals.

The championship games were just a repetition of the previous games. Two ancient enemies faced each other and fought with all that was in them, each with the determination to carry off the 1924 championship.

In the first quarter of the game, each team worked steadily and cautiously and at the end of the first half the score rested 15 to 10 in favor of the Seniors. It was in the third quarter that both teams did their best work. The Juniors displayed marked ability in team work while the Seniors fought to hold their own. The score tied 18 to 18. In the last quarter the Seniors brought forth their reserve strength and won the game 26 to 20. Team work of the Seniors' centers was the feature of the game.

INDOOR BASEBALL

The Tulsa "Oilers" didn't have a cinch on the National game last spring. Nosirree! For down in the girls was heard during the training season of our feminine Ty Cobbs and Babe Ruths. During these try-outs the four teams were chosen and preparations were made for a series of games.

"She sure swings a wicked bat," was a remark heard more than once during these games. "Swing" they said, and they swung. The Sophomores defeated the Freshmen 18-10, the Seniors, the Juniors 13-10, and the Seniors 13-10.

But the plucky Freshmen came back to the Seniors in a way that was surprising and only lost to them by 2 points, 18-20.

That left as usual the Juniors and Seniors final contenders for championship. The Seniors were fearful, but the Juniors were not. They won 13-10, and so the Seniors were out of the championship for three years.

The Juniors started out with a bang and at the end of the third inning the Juniors had a lead of 5 points. After that the Seniors came up and made the score much closer. As the Seniors had their last bat, they hoped to win. The Juniors held them, however, and in the final inning they were unable to surpass the Junior score, thus giving the Juniors a victory of 13-10.

The Seniors had a chance to "lose without excusing" but they didn't take it. It was the first time they had had a chance to "lose without excusing."

TRACK

For the past month girls' track teams have been practicing long and ardently in the gym. high jump, broad jump, 50-yd dash, 60-yd hurdles, basketball throw for distance, baseball throw for distance are the event of the track tournaments. Each girl who enters into the meet has to complete in two of these events.

According to the coaches some very promising track stars are being developed. The Freshmen team peculiarly has some good prospects. From this same source we derived the information that Melda Clement, Senior, and Georgia Lewis, Junior are rivals for the high-jump contest.

Track practice has been held in the gym, but the track meet which is to be held during the middle of May will be out in the open.

TENNIS

This year for the first time in the tennis history of T. H. S. a regular period was given over to the practice of tennis. This gave the girls who wished to learn, a chance, and also gave a chance to those who wished to further perfect their game. Miss Mildred Strohl, gym instructor was in charge of the class.

After a few weeks of practice the tournament was started to determine who was to represent Tulsa in tennis at the state meet.

Tennis is the only sport in which a T. H. S. girl athlete can represent her school and receive an athletic T, so every girl had a secret longing to be one of the chosen ones. Martha Hatcher, Mary Quinn, and Frances McIntyre received this honor. Martha and Mary played in the doubles and placed second in the state meet.

The "T-Club Peanut Throwers" and "Dog Catchers" had to work doubly hard this football season due to the fewness of big home games. However, the club undertook the second presentation of "Dr. Jekyll and Mr. Hyde," and through the faithful work of its members, the treasury was built up to approximately $750.00.

The constitution was revised for the first time since the club was organized and the amendments gave honorary members many privileges which they did not have here-to-fore.

This organization took an active part in the Norman meet as usual and donated about five hundred dollars to this fund.

This work was accomplished under the direction of the new sponsor, Mr. M. L. Wardell. Although the club was not so outstanding in its work as in the years past, many precedents have been established which will be of value in the coming years. Among these were the home-coming party held during the Easter Vacation for the High School Alumni, and the numerous programs and entertainments which were given during the club meetings.

Organizations are known by what they accomplish. The Booster Club has in the past year, greatly expanded, and its purpose of aiding the school activities has been realized. Last year the club made extensive preparation to promote the games for which it stands, and this year, under the leadership of Delbert McCullough, it has been more than successful.

The Thanksgiving Day football parade, the best and most beautiful of its kind ever to wind through the thoroughfare of Tulsa, was held under the auspices of the Booster Club which has been faithfully sponsored by Mr. Roy Inbury.

The one purpose of the Booster Club, to advertise and aid Tulsa High School in all her interscholastic endeavors has been accomplished, and this year's success has laid the foundation for prosperity in the future. The officers and members of the club have expectations for the years to come, as T. H. S. really needs this enthusiastic band of loyal workers to back all its undertakings.

The winning of the Sapulpa football game 10 can be attributed, to a great extent, to the supporting student body, who not cheered even the Sapulpa rooters on their own field of battle. The Booster club stirred the spirit of Tulsa High, and as a result, a large crowd attended.

The T. N. T. Club is composed of students who intend to become teachers, after they leave high school. The membership of the club is thirty-six, which is the greatest number in the club's history. The purpose of this organization is to furnish helpful and entertaining programs to the prospective teachers.

A hike to Lost City was one of the outstanding social features of the year's program. The club also enjoyed a Christmas party with a tree which held amusing presents for each member. In the early spring, juniors, who intend to take the Normal Training course in their senior year, were pledged into the club.

The success of the club this year is due in a large degree to Miss Jessie Leslie, sponsor, and Mildred Fields and Minnie Dugan, presidents the first and second semesters respectively. The motto of the club is, "Service our watchword, progress our aim." A torch is the emblem.

The club was organized in 1920 with Miss Lilian Schenk as sponsor. At that time the club consisted of eleven members. In 1921, when Miss Schenk was no longer sponsor, and Lila Bland, president, the club grew to the number of twenty-two.

It has played several excellent programs for the assemblies during the present season and its members have felt greatly gratified by the kindly encouragement and praise from their fellow students, and faculty members.

The Mendelssohn Club, which is composed of girls in the advance music classes, was reorganized in February with a dependable group of officers. Although it is primarily a musical organization, and not a social club, the members had many delightful times, especially in the initiation of the new members.

Year before last the club won third place in the Norman contests, while for the last two years it has captured second honors.

Mr. E. E. Crenie, a new addition to the teaching force, is a man of great talent along musical lines. He is the composer of a number of songs, among them the famous "I've Done See'd er Calliker Mule" and "The Years at the Spring."

Mrs. Mary R. Brown, a new addition to the teaching force, is the accompanist of both the Boys' Glee and the Mendelssohn Club. Under her leadership the club has won first prize in the state contests until 1922, making a record of six first places.

The Hi-Glee Club is now having its fifth successful year as a high school club and musical organization, having won the Boys' Glee contest at Norman in 1921, 1922, 1923, and 1924.

In 1921, under the leadership of Mr. Schoggen, the club set a high standard by winning first place at Norman in 1922, and 1923, the club, supervised by E. Edwin Crene, continued the good work, winning first place both years, making a total of three first place shields and one second in four consecutive years.

In the success of the annual Hippodrome, staged by the Music Department for the benefit of the Norman fund, the Hi-Glee has always been an important factor.

The Glee Club of 1924 helped make a success of this year's Hippodrome which was the most elaborate performance yet staged by the school. Besides this, the club has made numerous appearances in assemblies and school functions, which have raised the musical standards of the high school and community.

experience in all phases of newspaper work, and at the same time give to the school at large a weekly paper, containing the news of the school.

The Tulsa School Life staff for the fall term, under the guidance of Miss Eve Finson, set out at the beginning of the year to organize the staff for the entire semester, giving each member a chance at the city editor's desk. It determined to a large extent the policy of the paper for the school year 1923-1924.

spring. It was their purpose to serve the school by publishing a true account of the school news which could be used in future years as a definite historical record. That they fulfilled their purpose can be proved by the book.

Two new features, "The Gossip Shop" and "Lee Field Dirt" made their appearance in the paper. The latter contained humorous sketches of the football squad. It was discontinued at the close of the football season.

In preceding years the papers were issued every Tuesday, but this year the date was changed to Wednesday in order to give the staff time to collect the news of the week-end, and have it printed. Heretofore, this sort of news was usually printed in the issue a week later.

Sixteen new students and one from last year's staff undertook the editing of Tulsa School Life in the second semester, under the guidance of Miss Iona Irish. The entire staff with the exception of the business manager was given a chance to edit the paper by the system of changing the staff every two weeks.

The "Detectif," a special column forming the humorous section, contained the only jokes printed. A humorous story, showing the lighter side of the institutions of the school, was given each week. The "Scriptorium" introduced each week the best theme found in the English department. This often included contest themes which won prizes. Persons who were deemed worthy supporters of the Tulsa spirit and the ideals of the institution, were presented each week in "Shadows of the Great Spirit."

A review of new and old books, and a snappy introduction to new authors, in which students would be interested, were given in "Between the Book Ends." In the desire to express to the students purely American ideals, the editorial column was headed with "A Creed for Americans." The Public Service Company of this city offered a prize for the best advertisement written each week. Each member of the staff was required to compete in this contest, and was thus given practice in a different line of work.

The Girl Scout movement in the United States is concerned chiefly with preparing girls for effective and happy citizenship and participation in the life of their country, through the right use of their leisure time.

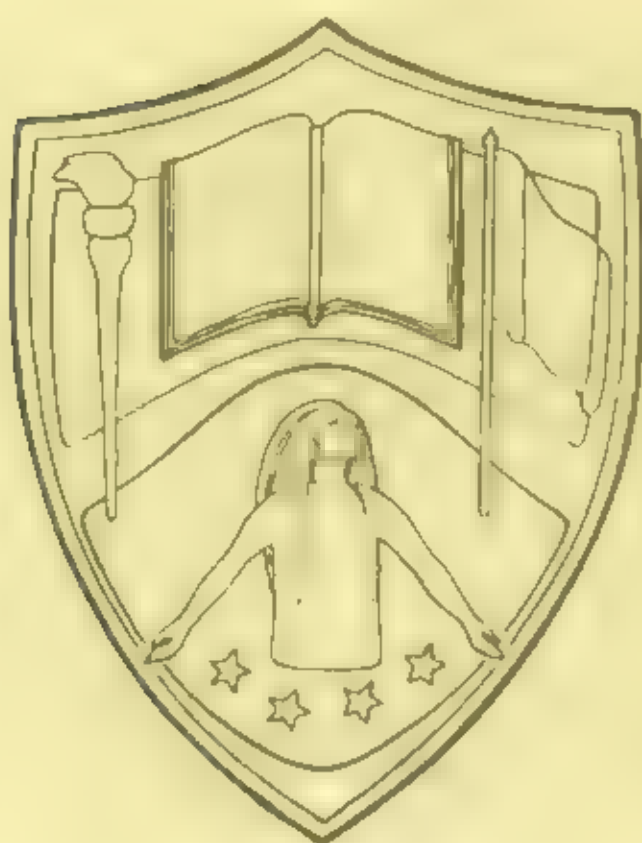

The movement was started by Mrs. Juliette Low in 1912 at Savannah, Georgia, as an outgrowth of the Girl Guides of Great Britain. While Girl Scouts Incorporated, is represented on the International Council of Girl Scouts and Girl Guides, and is part of the general world movement of Scouting for young people, founded by Sir Baden-Powell, it is a separate organization.

Pine Cone Troop No. 2 of Tulsa High School is one of the nineteen troops in Tulsa. Pine Cone has an enrollment of thirty-two scouts, forming four patrols. This troop has only been on register since January 1, 1924. The troop is led by Miss Lola Fisher, the captain, Miss Anita Humphrey, the lieutenant, and Miss Gertrude Ford, Miss Ada Hanna, Miss Emma Lee Snuggs as assistants.

HONOR SOCIETY

Leadership, scholarship, character and service are recognized in Tulsa High school through the Tulsa Chapter of the National Honor Society of the Secondary Schools of the United States. To be eligible for election to this society, a student must have a scholarship rating in the upper one fourth of his class and must be able to show high ratings by his class and club sponsors in his service on committees or volunteer work, in his leadership when elected to offices and in general character and attitude. Not more than fifteen per cent of each graduating class may be elected, but five per cent of any class may be elected at the close of the Junior year.

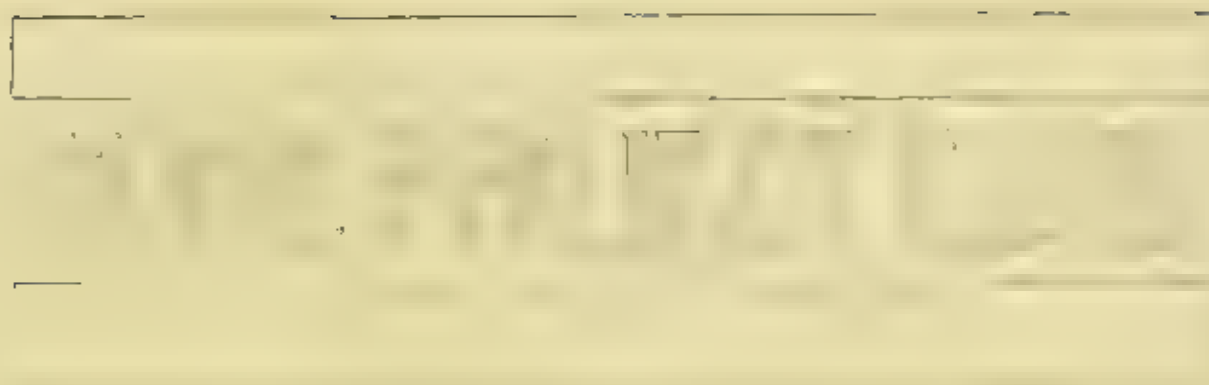

The senate of our High School sponsored the formation and organization of the society last year. The shield designed by the Senate committee in 1923 symbolizes the four objectives towards which the applicant for membership in the Honor Society must strive, the book signifying scholarship, the flag service, the torch, leadership, and the Great Spirit stands for character. Tulsa has taken the forward step among the high schools in having a very impressive initiation which was written by Mr. Robert A. Russell.

This year, under the leadership of Margaret Dubbs, president; Katherine Hubbard, vice-president; Phyllis Reis, secretary, and Evelyn Maurer, treasurer, with Miss Blanche Hanna as sponsor, the club had made the advance step of promoting the recognition of worthy students.

The second ritual for the installation of members was held in General Assembly, May 16, 1924.

This club is composed of high school students with a special interest in the study of agriculture, the purpose of which is to give its members a practical problem of their own work out at home, in order that the classroom work may be made of greater interest.

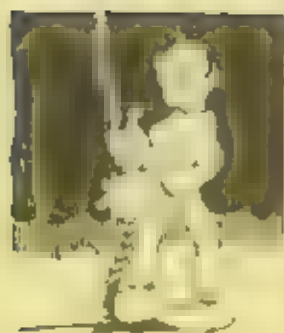

Each member chooses a project according to his personal desires. He obtains instruction in three principal ways, by reading government bulletins, through personal visits of the instructor, and through discussions during regular meetings of the club.

Each member is required to keep an exact record of the time, cost of seed, tools, fertilizers, plants purchased and all other expenses incurred in the development of his project. He is also required to keep an exact account of all receipts derived from his project. After the project is completed a final report with a story of the experiences during the completion of his project is given. This is then verified by the parents and the grade of work reported upon by the instructor. A high school credit is given provided the work has been done satisfactorily. The owners of the best projects are awarded prizes from some of the civic clubs.

The project method is not new. Instructors, who have had a set purpose for the accomplishment of a definite end, have used this method for many years, even though they did not call it by that name. In arithmetic we have been accustomed to assign specific problems to set before the student definite questions for his study period with a definite goal in mind. The project method in agriculture is for the same purpose.

Jonathan Swift, once wrote, "Whoever makes two ears of corn or two blades of grass grow where only the one grew before does essential service to his country." This might be used as the motto of this club.

All work in agriculture is practical. It is for this reason that the club has adopted the plan of having occasional picnics at which all members join in a wholesome good time.

The Stage Craft Club has been a successful organization in Tulsa high school. The Club's strict adherence to its motto, "Our Service is Our Loyalty," has largely contributed to its success and popularity.

Through their own Constitution members are made directly responsible for proper care of the stage and all equipment. The members are selected, not according to their popularity but according to their ability to think, plan and then put forth good honest work in completing whatever task they undertake. They receive credit for their work, and the club, always has, and is striving for greater efficiency in its work and for closer cooperation with other organizations and departments of Tulsa high school.

Each member of the club is required to wear a uniform consisting of a white shirt, white trousers, and a white necktie.	11

The Athletic Association is a council composed of student representatives elected by the school, faculty and sponsors. It is the duty of the Athletic Association executive committee to control the funds and methods of the athletic system in Tulsa high school. Through the medium of this council the requirements for all awards, including T's and numerals, are determined.

The executive committee meets once a week. As a result of these meetings the requirements for all athletic T's were again raised over last year. A player must score half the possible points in his event, or play half the possible time to secure a T. This body also approved a girls' sub-athletic association. A new emblem was given the girls for inter-class work. This emblem is in the shape of an oval T and is given to each girl who attains 100 points during her school career. The class numeral requirement was also raised to the same requirement for a T. Through this body, Life Saving emblems are given to boys and girls who pass the junior and senior Red Cross life saving tests.

The success of the Athletic Association depends largely upon the support given it by the faculty sponsors, and in Mr. Rau, Mr. Inbody, Miss Carlson, Miss Strohl and Mr. Prunty, the association has had untiring help. These sponsors have faithfully attended all meetings, and all work of the executive committee has met with their full support and approval.

HER MAJESTY QUEEN MARCELLETTE

"The most beautiful parade in Tulsa's history" was the enthusiastic tribute hundreds of witnesses paid to our football parade, which wound its sinuous way through Tulsa's streets on November 28. The Booster Club was declared the possessor of the most attractive organization float, but the queen's royal car was generally admitted to be the very acme of decorative perfection and beauty.

It was the happy lot of the senior class to select from its midst the sweetest and most popular girl to reign during the football festival. This honor was bestowed upon Marcellette Grant, who may be seen in this picture, with the splendor of her regal throne as the background.

MISS ISABELLE RONAN

The quality and excellence of Tulsa High's dramatic productions has long been established, our plays are patronized not only by our students but also by devotees of the drama from all over the city. To Miss Isabelle E. Ronan, director of our dramatics department, goes much of the credit for the fine standard of interpretation which our plays have reached. Dramatics ranks in popularity with any other school activity thanks to Miss Ronan's efforts. With the cooperation of the Stagecraft Club, mystery, romance, farce and intensive drama have all been included in our list of highly successful productions.

The Senior Class expresses in this manner something of its appreciation of Miss Ronan, both as a critic and leader of histrionic efforts and as a true friend.

THE SERVANT IN THE HOUSE

On November 2 the dramatics season opened with the presentation of Charles Rann Kennedy's "The Servant in the House." The intense spiritual quality of the play showed the possibilities of the young actor and paved the way for lighter productions to come. The cast included George Willett as Robert, Dorothy Harre as Mary, Joe Steele as the Vicar's Wife, Tom Dilbeck as the Vicar, George Watson as the Bishop of Lanesshire, Robert Forster as the page boy, and Wade Arnold as the servant.

HI-Y MINSTREL

The first showing of the Hi-Y Minstrel was on the night of November 8, and due to the huge success, it was again presented on November 17. Fricasced, Dilbeck, "Skunkton" Tuttle, "Whirlwind" Watson, and "Calsonine" Backus were the mirth provoking end-men and the entire show was displayed in true minstrel fashion. Scott Sappenfield, as interlocutor, managed his witty crew with a skill that brought out the full cleverness of the production.

PETROLEUM PARADE FLOAT

Tulsa high cooperated in Tulsa's first International Petroleum exposition parade as this attractive and original float indicates. A miniature reproduction of our school complete in every exterior detail and prepared by our art and manual arts departments caused much favorable comment from the onlookers.

This float was also used in the Tulsa Armistice Day parade. Members of the T-Walkers in their brilliant crimson and cream uniforms manned the floats.

"JOSEPH AND HIS BRETHREN"

"Joseph and His Brethren," the intense Biblical drama was presented on January 12, by the members of the Hi-Y clubs in both matinee and evening performances. Tom Dilbeck as Joseph, John Beauchamp as Jacob, Kirk Tuttle as Simeon and George Scott as Utobal, supported by an excellent cast, brought out both the spiritual quality and dramatic interest of the play. Beautiful scenic effects added to the attractiveness of this production.

STOP THIEF

"Stop Thief" is regarded by some as the best liked and most successful play presented this year. Wade Arnold, as the daring robber, and Constance Crosby, his helpmate and a servant in the house, had the leading roles. Kirk Tuttle as a doctor, and Ray Kelly as a young man about to be married who thought him a tommy, furnished much of the humor and excitement in the play. Vaden Luck as a bride, Lyndes Stone, as her father and Rhea Newman, her mother, played their parts to perfection.

Jim Dilbeck, as the conscientious sergeant, successfully exposed the clever crooks in the third act, only to be burgled, and a joyous triple wedding brought this highly entertaining play to a delightful conclusion.

THE CHARM SCHOOL

The success of the Junior-Senior Pow Wow was assured when the third year people pushed over their junior play, "The Charm School". The success of the play was assured by the excellent acting of the cast. As long as the actors were as good as the ones who played the play, the play was a success. The cast included: Wade Arnold, Kirk Tuttle, Ray Kelly, Vaden Luck, Lyndes Stone, Rhea Newman, Jim Dilbeck, and Constance Crosby. Norman Drake, Mary Elizabeth German were excellent characters in the supporting cast.

SHE STOOPS TO CONQUER

Kirk Tuttle as "Tony Lumpkin"

'She Stoops to Conquer,' Goldsmith's classical comedy, was cleverly presented by the advanced dramatics class on March 28 and 29. Ray Kelly and Katherine Hubbard as the leads united with Katherine Clawson and Bob Stone to furnish the romantic note of the play. "Tony Lumpkin," the rollicking scoundrel, whose irrepressible antics kept the audience in a continuous furor of mirth was ably played by Kirk Tuttle. He may be seen in the upper picture, lustily driving his parlor coach and four in the direction of the ale house.

Mrs. Hardecastle—one of the most famous middle-aged women of literature was played by Katherine Donahoe. "Squire Hardecastle," her old-fashioned husband is here seen instructing his awkward servants in the fundamentals of drawing room etiquette. These roles were filled respectively by Gordon Dunn, Sam Diamond and Eugene Bowles, while Tom Dilbeck performed as the third and equally comic serving man, former militiaman "Diggery." John Muelens made a fourth and equally incorrigible flunk.

The proceeds of 'She Stoops to Conquer' were used to subsidize the Tom Tom

Squire Hardecastle training his servants

DR. JEKYLL AND MR. HYDE

Elmie Markowitz transformed into the hideous semblance of the dwarf fiend Hyde may be seen in the upper picture. So remarkable was the success of the first presentation of the gripping drama, "Dr. Jekyll and Mr. Hyde" on December 7 that the "T" club felt called upon to sponsor another performance, which was as triumphant as the first. Markowitz in the difficult dual role was ably supported by a cast including Katherine Clawson, Bill Moore, Lyndes Stone, Abe Travis and Elmer Weedy.

SHAKESPEARE'S MACBETH

The most difficult and elaborately staged drama Tulsa High has undertaken was successfully presented on March 14 when playgoers flocked to see our interpretation of "Macbeth." Scenery designed by the art department, beautiful lighting effects perfected by the stagecraft club, and masterful acting in the part of Lyndes Stone as Macbeth and Mildred Maxey as Lady Macbeth were the contributing factors to this dramatic triumph. The leads are here depicted clothed in their ill gotten robes of royal finery. The supporting cast included George Willett, Gordon Dunn, George Stansell, Elmie Markowitz, Wade Arnold, John Ford, Margaret Sanford and Vaden Luck.

Lord and Lady Macbeth

ISOLA MORTON AS "PALE MOON"

THE HIPPODROME

Three splendidly presented acts, full of variety, color and attractiveness marked the third annual "Hippodrome" produced by the Music department on the nights of April 4 and 5. The first act, an Indian Fantasy, combined the weird atmosphere of an early American legend with the light, lovely spirit of an aboriginal love story. The key note of the initial act was realism, with suitable lighting effects, Indian costumes and wigwam, a blood curdling stomp dance, and exceptional acting its important features. The vocal work of Isola Morton, Gustave Brandborg and Donald Woolsey contributed to the success of the Indian act.

The second act of the "Hippodrome" was monopolized by a group of select black face comedians, whose uproarious antics and melodious southern harmonies delighted the audience. The principal characters in this Ethiopiae Futuristic were Ray Kelly, Kirk Tuttle, Tom Dilbeck, Paul Smith, George Norvell, and Scott Sappenfield.

A mixed chorus of one hundred and fifty of the best voices in the student body climaxed the performance through their splendid singing of the three charming numbers which composed the last act—"Awake, Awake," "Farewell, Beloved," and "On the Road to Mandalay."

Barometer of Public Consumption

Being a voracious colyum devoted to the further elevation of morbid souls who daily elevate themselves into the heights of our fourth floor, there to perform hasty and gulping gastronomical operations.

Mr. Prunty has developed a passionate fondness for large autos, judging from the vastness of the truck he eats for lunch.

Ed Warren came near being electrocuted in the cafeteria last Friday. He swallowed a bun with a current in it. The only thing that saved him was that the object lodged in his neck, and since rubber is not a conductor of electricity the charge did not reach the rest of his body.

A horrible accident occurred in our fourth floor filling station Friday during lunch period. A young freshman was struck a painful blow directly between the lunch line and the cash register.

DESPERATE CRIMINAL FLEAS TAKES DEPARTURE WITH HIM

One of the most vicious assaults in the annals of Oklahoma criminology occurred in T. H. S. late Tuesday. The deed surpassed in horror even the daring escapades of charming Charlie Robbins, the style climbing shiek, and gorgeous Georgie Gates, the Broadway cut-up, who once reigned supreme as the king of desperados in the fire-spitting, tobacco-chewing days of the cattle country.

The details of the crime were these, a twenty-four pound freshman, with a number thirteen shoe, was dashing madly through B hall and in his frenzied haste, stepped crushingly on the corn of the hatchet faced janitor. This violent pressure on the janitor's corn was one of the most brutal crimes ever committed in the corn-belt. The hatchet-faced gentleman to retaliate, bit the youth on the ear, killing all the freshman's ambition. We may therefore call the crime a hatchet murder.

As the fight progressed the freshman was stricken in three places, in the solar plexus in D corridor and in cold

Determined, After Twenty Years

Credit Goes to T. H. S. Senate

The most important discovery, the most tremendous find and altogether the most stupendous revolution in the history of the senate investigation committee came to light on the 30th of December last, when the profit and loss committee of the T. H. S. Senate discovered the cause of the World War.

The committee, has established a record in speed and dispatch in so-called m-ging, since it came to its conclusion after sitting in session only forty-three years, nineteen days, four hours, eight minutes, and three and three-tenths seconds, which space of time happens to be strongly enough the world record of the new American marathon whose course extends from the Tex 'ot Dome to Mr. Fells' ranch in Mexico and thence to the office of the Secretary of Navy in Washington D. C.

To get back to bare facts, which is always the purpose of a good news story, we reveal the startling truth that the T. H. S. Senate committee has found the following facts to be self-evident, regard of the cause and circumstance surrounding the great World War.

The conflict was accompanied by a great deal of very sincere and vigorous warfare on the part of all actively engaged in the affair.

The war was not brought about by any serious complication of international affairs, but came as the direct result of a diarrheal on to function properly on the part of the digestive apparatus of two very famous gentlemen, namely the ex-kaiser Wilhelm, known throughout the world because of his son, the Clown Quince, and premier Pearsall of France.

Thesetwo gentlemen were eating lunch in Paris on the last day of July, 1914; they were feeling in an unusually jovial mood, and were abouting merrily the soothing strains of that famous old melody, "Yes, We Have No Haul, _____ all Got Silver Threads Among the Bananas."

The kaizer and the premier were eating happily, so it seems, when a Japanese waiter named Smith entered with a course composed of French fried potatoes and German sauerkraut. Little did this poor man named Murphy realize that on that tray he held the food which was to precipitate a great international fight.

For lo, and behold, when the kaiser and the premier did eat these dishes, the French-fried would not agree in the midst of their middles, with the contentions of the German sauerkraut. And so both the kaiser and the Frenchman were seized by that popular malady which makes us howl in pain, and curse lustily the art of eating.

The condition was made worse by the fact that they had both been eating string beans, and when each tried to explain to the other, and offer apologies for the sad state of affairs, explained thought the explainer was trying to string him.

This is the report, as submitted by John Beauchamp, Bob Stone, Mildred Massey, and Jean Alexander, profit and loss committee of the Tulsa high school Senate.

Statistics Which Every Freshman Should Know

If all the lard, axle grease, olive oil and two-bit perfume that Harold Campbell, Paul Courtney, Geo. Watkins and David Bradley and the brother eakes of kindred strife, have smeared on their glistening helpless heads of hair was poured into one huge vat, boiled thirteen hours, six minutes and then deluged out in a great flood upon a point equidistant between the continental divide and the smallest island in the Philippines the resulting lake would be 20 meters thick, (not gas meters) eighteen furlongs long and twenty fathoms from the crown of the emperor of China once removed.

Action Photo!

The attractive blank space above is a scene from the "The Framing of the Brew," a still drama in four coils by Orange and Lemon Sherbert. The picture is full of action, but unfortunately none of the characters are in sight. The hero has just rushed off the stage, and is now behind the editorial in the extreme right hand column. The heroine has just thrown herself into a swimming pool in mid stage, and has sunk. She is hiding coyly behind the clothing store add at the foot of the column. The stage manager is swearing violently behind the news story on your left, and will dash into view in one minute from any time you read this. His profanity caused all typographical errors since the linotype machine was so shocked it was jolted out of gear.

SUBURB OF OKLA- SAP IS FORMED

Two minor events of last Tuesday were the incorporation of the former villages of Sapulpa and Oklahoma City into the suburb of Oklasap, as a commuting station with Tulsa. The high schools of the new borough have been combined, with an enrollment of 23. It is rumored that they will have a football team this year. Football has been neglected as a sport in both Sapulpa and Oklahoma City for about twenty years, since their teams were too completely massacred by Bill Moore's Tulsa Braves.

Published at irregular intervals by the propaganda department of the four horns of the Eucalyptus.

Our policy—we're against everything and for nothing, we believe that the world owes us a living and from that self-satisfying platform no tanton locomotive, fire-spitting, dinosaur, super-natural monster or senate investigating committee can move us. We made this paper what it is to-day and we are satisfied. We believe in the government that does the people for the people, for the people and by the people. Hurrah.

Hurrah, for the greatest words in the dickshunerry. US and I.

Children Under 16 Must Not Read This

The editors of Tulsa Hi-Life wish to go on record as being opposed to the present curriculum of Tulsa high school. As the school is now run, the youth of the land enrolled in botany must study wild flowers, anything wild for the younger generation we're against—even wild onions. Furthermore we advocate and agitate the abolition of our mathematics department no modest high school girl should be compelled to do improper fractions.

Connie Crosby now wants to go farming. An announcement that is rather alarming. But with planter and plow, we can hardly see how, she can help but be pretty and charming.

CHURCH MUSIC

We hear of a church where the music is of a highly aesthetic kind. For instance, last Sunday, the choir began that scriptural poem that compares Solomon with the lilies of the field

Although never possessing a great admiration for Solomon, still a pang of pity was felt for him when the choir began to sing of his admiration for the lilies of the field, began to tell the congregation that "Solomon in all his glory was not arraved." Straightway the soprano was reinforced by the bass who declared that "Solomon most decidedly and emphatically was not arraved"; then the alto ventured it as her opinion that he was not arraved, when the tenor sang as it had been officially announced that he was not arraved. The sympathies of the congregation were now aroused for poor Solomon, whose numerous wives allowed him to go about in such a fashion. Now the choir in such a cool manner informed us that "Solomon in all his glory was not arraved like one of these"

These what? Such a long time had elapsed since they had sung of lilies that by "these," one naturally concluded the choir was designated. Arraved like one of these? We should say not. Solomon in a Prince Albert or with an eye-glass, mustache and hair cut pompadour!

Despite this experience in the morning, hope still lingered that a song would be sung that did not leave the impression of a case of slander. But in the evening, again off started the soprano with the startling announcement "I will wash," the tenor finding it to be the thing, warbled forth he would wash. Next the alto decided she would wash, and the basso bellowed the strong resolve that he would wash. Now an interlude on the organ suggested the escaping of steam or the splash of a wave, after which the choir asserted the firm unshaken resolve that they would wash. At last they solved the problem by singing they proposed to wash their hands in innocency, so will the altar of the Lord be compassed

SO-SIGH-ETTY COLYUM

The Pa Delta Flush Society dedicated to the lofty pursuit of the great national sport, of Penny Ante, held its centennial get-together in the honor of Robert Rufus Schnitzlebaum Moore, the president, on the forty-third day of October. The meeting was a huge success for the winners and was featured by a full house. Howard Sphinx Grubb, the automatic mummy, Jean W. Hare, the electric rabbit, and Heber Martin, the sugar-coated cough-drop, were among those actively participating in the evening's strenuous activities. There was little scrapping among the brothers, and the only disturbance occurred when three of a kind beat two pairs. Three types of chips were used—chips on the shoulder, chips off the old block, and potato chips. The meeting was closed by request of the society for the preservation of public peace. Following the adjournment to the city jail, a quiet time was had by all. Invitations to remain here as guests of the municipality were urged and were accepted with alacrity.

All's well that ends well!

HAVE YOU SEEN YOUR CLASS PROPHECY?

It is the spring of 1944; papers are piled high on the glistening, mahogany top of Senate Floor Wagon Number One. Letters unanswered, congressional correspondence, and official documents of all kinds are strewn about with a promiscuity that confesses a reckless neglect on the part of the great legislator. For he is greedily devouring a group of letters which have quite evidently taken precedence over papers which involve the interests of millions.

These epistles which are providing such entertaining reading matter for Senator Prunty are postmarked from every spot on the globe. Every clime, and all manner of picturesque scenes may be imagined, as one views the geographical variety that these strange letters unfold. They are the written result of inquiries which the Honorable Senator from Alaska has sent out to the members of the class of '24, seeking to discover how the seniors of twenty years ago have fared in these eventful intervening years. Yes, the mighty statesman is hearkening back to the days when he was the successful principal of Tulsa Central high school, and the things he reads between the lines stir within him many fond memories, to which time has lent its usual rosy glamour. Let us throw aside convention for the moment, and peer within these confessing letters. View, we

Rogers Carter: "I always knew that my wonderful voice would make me famous and it has. I have replaced the fog-horn on the tug-boat which runs between Ellis Island and the Jersey City shore."

Wanda Cochran: "I was the last world series, because all the girls on their team were chickens and all they could do was cluck."

Paul Courtney: "By general consent, including my own, I am the handsomest man in the world. Just now I am taking a vacation from my nerve-racking position as chief poser for Arrow collar advertisements."

Margaret Cummings: "I find that my early scrawlings in the art department of T. H. S. have stood me in good stead, for I am now the chief cartoonist for "Life," "Judge," "The Atlantic Monthly," and the Methodist School annual. Sometimes I ran out of things to draw on, then I draw on my imagination."

Gertrude Daulton: "I always did want to be a modiste—but I never did have enough ambition to want to have to keep track of a lot of dresses. Consequently I have found an ideal situation by operating a ladies' retail shop in the South Sea Islands."

Edith Daulton: "I am the only woman in the world who has been in my moving pictures of the ancient wild and woolly west. Whereas Bill Hart could handle only two guns at a time, I can handle a whole lot more."

Lorene Furrow: "Thanks to my early experience as a first violinist in Mr. Ryan's orchestra, I soon found work in a saw mill in the Maine woods. I went back to fiddle playing when the work got too easy, however, and have just completed a concert tour of Hongkong, Shanghai, and points east."

A rude, impertinent little bell at his elbow sharply scolds the Senator for thus wasting his precious time on such relics of a nearly forgotten past. The sudden appearance of a uniformed page in the door of the finely appointed office also reveals that it announced the approach of some high dignitary. "Sir, the president declares that the price of eggs in Paris, Texas, is now at a record high."

Finally, when the President has finished his role as one of the pilots of the destinies of nations, he prepares again to play his role as one of the pilots of the destinies of nations.

"Tell the president I shall be with him in a moment."

Mr. E. W. Rau, being of a very forward disposition especially prominent in trying to appear before the public eye, and fill his hearers' ears full of fiery orations and prolonged speeches, we have compiled the following information concerning him.

If all of Mr. Rau's Speeches were typewritten in bold faced capitals on wrapping paper, and were then torn into bits in a sausage grinder the result wouldn't even be enough confetti to sparsely sprinkle the bridal party of a Pekingnese flea. Thus do we show the speech making proclivities of Mr. E. W. Rau.

"WHERE THE ARKANSAS IS WINDING"
BY JANE KIRK

1. Where the Arkansas is winding, and the Osage hills look
2. We are proud of our Great Spirit, That upholds ideals so

1. Down, Proudly stands our Tulsa High School, bearing nation-wide renown
2. Bright, And our school shall e'er be noted, for its virtue and its might,

1. Its true bonds can ne'er be broken, nor its loyal spirit
2. To our teachers and our classmates, may we ever loyal

1. Die, Ever staunch we'll stand together, ever bound by memory's tie.
2. Be, May the spark of present friendship live and burn eternally.

SCHOOL SONG

I am a student of this school, and I am proud of it.

For I am a student of the spirit — never drifting with the crowd.

Down in faith and charity, we are all here.

For the Tulsa High School. For the crimson and white.

(Not written in original key and harmony used by the composer)

EXCLUSIVE DIRECTIONS ON MOST ACCEPTABLE METHOD FOR TABULATION OF PER SONAL INCOME TAX

Issued by Isaac Livinsky O Flannigan, minister plenipotentiary from the Soviet Government to Levinworth, Kansas, and widely quoted authority on both income and carpet tax.

In case any member of the graduating class of 1924 ever amasses enough wealth in law, politics, real estate, school teaching or by honest ends to be liable to the powers that be for a tax on his income the following rules will be worthy of trial, and are guaranteed to succeed in 99 times out of every 100.

statesmen as Ring Lardner, Will Rogers, Doc Frank Crane, Wm Jennings Bryan, and other well known tax-dodgers.

Take the number of the house in which you live, find the square root of its quadratic logarithm, add to subtract six and print the resulting figure on the reverse side of a librarian postage stamp, issue of 1776. Have this carefully massaged on the tongue of an Andalusian water spoutlet, take the wave length of a radio station, situated in the center of population in the U. S. in relation to the Chinese district of San Francisco, add to this the number of grey hairs to be found on the bureau of a bald headed chinaman, multiply by the number of votes Bryan received the sixth time he ran, subtract from this the number of miles Doc Cook missed the north pole and the depth of the ocean three miles off the coast of Garden City, Kansas, and obtain the final result of multiplying the whole by the factory number of the pistol with which you commit suicide.

Miss Witte: "What is Bryan's objection to the Darwin theory?"

Delbert: (with feeling) "He's kind hearted, and doesn't want to lay so much blame on the poor monkeys."

VISIONS OF 1942

It was eleven o'clock at night, the party was on a passenger airplane from New York to San Francisco. The passengers were all sleeping, but the stewardess was on her feet. She was looking at the clock and the door. Suddenly a loud noise came from the engine. The stewardess ran to the door and saw a man on a rampage. He was holding a gun and was shouting "I'm the king of the jungle!" The stewardess ran back to the cabin and woke up the passengers. They all looked at the stewardess and then at the man. The man was holding the gun high in the air and was shouting "I'm the king of the jungle!" The passengers were all looking at the man and the stewardess. The man was shouting "I'm the king of the jungle!" and the stewardess was shouting "We're going to crash!" The passengers were all looking at the man and the stewardess. The man was shouting "I'm the king of the jungle!" and the stewardess was shouting "We're going to crash!" The passengers were all looking at the man and the stewardess. The man was shouting "I'm the king of the jungle!" and the stewardess was shouting "We're going to crash!"

J. J. CULBERTSON

OUR NEW STATUES

The statues of Venus de Milo and Apollo Belvedere were given to the high school by Mr. J. J. Culbertson of Paris, Texas, as a token of appreciation of the town and the schools. Mr. Culbertson is a prominent cottonseed dealer in Texas and has traveled over the country in the interest of his business and for pleasure.

"I have been a frequent visitor to Tulsa during its early history--the first visit when your city had a population of about 2500. I was fortunate enough to make some profitable investments, and the growth of Tulsa has never ceased to be of wonderment to myself. It has been to me a magic city--the like of which I do not believe has been equalled in the United States. That it is destined to become one of the most important in the Southwest I do not question--and it will have as compeers a few fast growing cities that are destined to become large in the future. The thought in making the presentation to the somewhat young educational institution, to which the marble busts have been sent, was actuated primarily in the idea that the love for art education now proceeding with the youth in the Southwest, the growth of art is increasing each year, and with it will come the privilege to be able, under the circumstances, to present to the Central High School of your city the two pieces from Italy, which I trust will be accepted as a memorial from the donor.

Both statues are made from the finest Italian marble and are perfect reproductions of the originals made by the old masters. The original statue of Venus was found on the Island of Melos, Greece in 1820 and taken to the museum at Paris, where it is now to be seen. It was probably made in the middle of the fourth century B. C. The original of Apollo is in the Vatican Museum at Rome it is a representation of the statue of an old Greek god. The identity of the sculptor is not known. The carving shows every intonation of the flesh, appearing almost life-like, the expressions on the faces are very truly reproduced, showing the haughty spirit of Apollo and the delicate beauty of Venus.

The statues will be placed in the south auditorium, one on each side of the stage. The placing of the statues in the auditorium shows clearly the regard that is placed on them and the value the school authorities recognize in them.

GIRLS' STANDARD ORATION CONTEST

Eva Novak, who earned the right to represent the school in the Girls' Standard Oration Contest which was held at Muskogee, lost in that city after a very hard fight. Eva delivered "The Declaration of Independence" by Woodrow Wilson. She competed against Sapulpa, who carried off first honors, Muskogee, Bartlesville and Okmulgee.

Eva is a junior, and before this year had had very little experience in the line of public speaking. She won the contest in the high school from a number of more experienced orators.

BOYS' STANDARD ORATION CONTEST

Calvin Tinney represented Tulsa High School in the Standard Oration Contest for boys, which was held at McAlester in the early fall. Calvin's subject was "The Call to Arms" by Patrick Henry. He competed against Bartlesville, Sapulpa, McAlester and Muskogee.

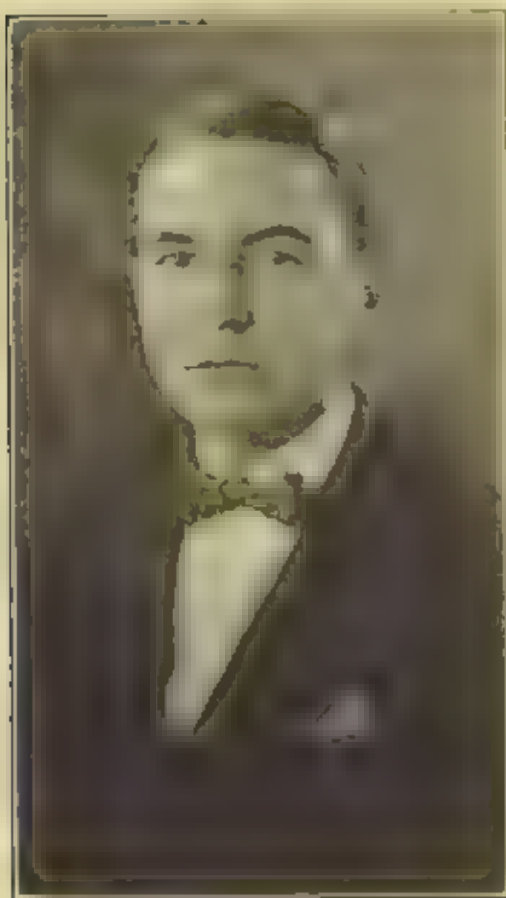

Although Calvin was awarded second place by the judges, he was eliminated from the contest because he exceeded the time limit by forty seconds, which disqualified him from placing.

Calvin, who is a sophomore, has shown that he is adept in the line of public speaking as well as in writing, for he expresses his ideas equally as well verbally as on paper.

CONSTITUTION ORATION CONTEST

JOHN BEAUCHAMP

John Beauchamp, senior, won first place in the high school in the National Oration Contest on the Constitution of the United States, which was held under the auspices of "The Tulsa Daily World" on April 4. John chose the general subject, "The Constitution" and delivered his oration in a masterful way. By winning the Tulsa High School final, John earned the right to enter the district elimination contest held in Tulsa, April 11.

John competed against seven of the best orators in the school. His closest competitor was Wade Arnold, who won second in the contest. Jane Kirk, junior, and Calvin Tinney, sophomore, tied for third honors.

According to the judges of the contest, John's interpretation, reasoning, and delivery, were exceptional for a high school student. He won the decision of the judges by his perfect poise and forceful delivery, in addition to his general interpretation.

"THE TEN BEST BOOKS I EVER READ"

By CALVIN L. TINNEY

Abraham Lincoln, the boy, had a library that consisted of but six books. He had no modern comforts: no free library, no hair mattress, no electric light, no ready-made clothes. But he had six books!

In those six books, which were his heritage, and he read and a certain age they were the greatest books he had ever read. They were the books he had never read. And we pity Abraham Lincoln because he was a boy. In this pitying, however, it might be well to let drop a tear or two for the modern boy, surrounded on all sides by books, and books, and still more books.

In this choice of the ten best books I have ever read, it is probably noticeable that fiction is not given a too prominent place. That I believe is just as it should be. History, biography, philosophy, poetry, and drama are all represented. It is a representative list, and the reason. All these, chosen with care and consideration, are the books that I believe to be, THE TEN BEST BOOKS I EVER READ.

"THE OUTLINE OF HISTORY"

Because my intention is not to have the order in which these 10 books are named relate to any different degree of greatness, I believe I am free to begin this list with H. G. Wells' "Outline of History." Wells' "Outline" is not an old book, but it is a book that has been read by many people. Whatever may be the reasons for my liking it, it is a book that I have read and I have enjoyed it.

One reason that I like it is that it is a book that I have read and I have enjoyed it. He has written it in the shortest style that can be used. He tells it in the shortest style that can be used. He comes to the point more quickly than any other writer. He comes to the point more quickly than any other writer.

He comes to the point more quickly than any other writer. He comes to the point more quickly than any other writer. He comes to the point more quickly than any other writer. He comes to the point more quickly than any other writer. He comes to the point more quickly than any other writer.

He comes to the point more quickly than any other writer. He comes to the point more quickly than any other writer. He comes to the point more quickly than any other writer. He comes to the point more quickly than any other writer. He comes to the point more quickly than any other writer.

He comes to the point more quickly than any other writer. He comes to the point more quickly than any other writer. He comes to the point more quickly than any other writer. He comes to the point more quickly than any other writer. He comes to the point more quickly than any other writer.

THE AMERICANIZATION OF EDWARD BOK

I have read many books, but I have never read a book that I have enjoyed so much as "The Americanization of Edward Bok." Bok's book, though originally meant for the grown-up, is a book that I have read and I have enjoyed it.

Bok's book, though originally meant for the grown-up, is a book that I have read and I have enjoyed it. It is a sensation every where, it is quoted, talked about and praised. What is the reason for this? What is the reason for this? There are always reasons for a book being so popular.

There are always reasons for a book being so popular. There are always reasons for a book being so popular. There are always reasons for a book being so popular. There are always reasons for a book being so popular. There are always reasons for a book being so popular.

There are always reasons for a book being so popular. There are always reasons for a book being so popular. There are always reasons for a book being so popular. There are always reasons for a book being so popular. There are always reasons for a book being so popular.

For those reasons, and others I cannot name here, I liked Bok and his book.

AESOP'S FABLES

Many, many years ago lived a slave named Aesop.

He has no outward circumstances of fortune to recommend him to the notice of the great, but he forced his way into the courts of power and influence. He employed wit, and it in itself was a force that acquired for him the name of the most celebrated fabulist and philosopher of all ages.

When I speak of the fables of Aesop as a book, I am thinking of a little volume, a part of my library which bears the title, "Aesop's Fables." For this volume I am sure Aesop is not responsible; his fables were never written down. But I think that the book is a book that I have read and I have enjoyed it.

But I think that the book is a book that I have read and I have enjoyed it. It is a book that I have read and I have enjoyed it. It is a book that I have read and I have enjoyed it. It is a book that I have read and I have enjoyed it. It is a book that I have read and I have enjoyed it.

It is a book that I have read and I have enjoyed it. It is a book that I have read and I have enjoyed it. It is a book that I have read and I have enjoyed it. It is a book that I have read and I have enjoyed it. It is a book that I have read and I have enjoyed it.

I, too, am a poet, and I have many pictures to me.

A Pilgrim's Progress

THE LADY OF THE LAKE

"In all history of literature," George B. Johnson, literary critic, once declared, "you cannot find a more inspiring example than Sir Walter Scott."

In "The Atlantic Monthly" of November, 1904, Arthur Symonds made the statement: "Scott's Lady of the Lake was written for boys." If it was, boys, generation after generation will read it and respond to it. And who can say that it is not well that there is a poet for boys?

Boyhood is a formative age, and boys are very likely to get a repugnance for the classics if introduced to the wrong kind of authors in that age. But a boy cannot make a mistake in starting on Scott. He will develop for the pleasure he will get out of it.

I liked it for those very reasons, and will always like it for those reasons, for what it did for me! The Lady of the Lake is Scott's greatest poetic contribution. It is healthy and big. It is full of energy and movement. It gives you adventure to your heart's content. The work is for the reader that likes mystery, the clash of battle, and sharp contrasts.

The Lady of the Lake was written for boys! That might not have been Scott's intention, but it is well that there is a book of verse for boys. There is a need for the poet who will not be too deep or advanced for the boy who will encourage in him a taste for the classics.

May the gods be thanked that Scott filled that need, possibly unknowingly!

KING HENRY THE FIFTH

I have not read much Shakespeare. But that is not my fault, it is the fault of my watch, I have not had time. I have, however, read some of his representative works. Among these is his "King Henry the Fifth."

Shakespeare's dramas may be divided into four classes: comedies, histories, tragedies, romances. Whether or not "King Henry the Fifth" overshadows all the other plays of Shakespeare, I do not know. I would be prone to answer in the negative. But in the group of histories, well, I believe "King Henry the Fifth" is the greatest historic drama ever written!

In "King Henry the Fifth" Shakespeare gives us a clear and complete picture of life, he paints the whole of it upon them. His men and women are not overdrawn or base in thought, but types of the noblest characters Europe at that age produced—all noble except Pistol and his cohorts.

Henry V. The King Henry of the play is one of the most appealing and inspiring figures I can think of. I believe that he is one of the greatest characters in literature. I enjoy him, admire him, and boylike, idealize him.

Because he is human.

THE ARABIAN NIGHTS

In country after country, among people of all classes, rich and poor, lettered and unlettered, the "Arabian Nights Entertainments" is reckoned one of the really great books, and is read and reread untiringly.

Just when I read this work I do not remember. It might have been when I was in the third grade, or fourth, since that time, but still in my mind are those vivid pictures the enchanting tales pointed to me. They made their impression, I remembered them.

The whole book of stories is so simple—so real—one would suspect it to be nothing more than a book of short stories of real and modern life. The characters are like friends we have known well. There is no moral in any strict sense, or any message. There is, however, a kind of moral philosophy throughout, a continual reiteration of the necessity of submitting to the will of God.

The composer of "Arabian Nights" just took the facts of life, and was not dismayed when he found them sordid and ugly, he but remoulded them with the tools of imagination and hope into figures of beauty and loveliness.

For a long time, I know I have read a great book by a real author. Such a book is the "Arabian Nights." Who has read it? It has remained in my thoughts—remains there now—and therefore, with the statement of Joselen, I call it a great book.

ROBINSON CRUSOE

After that time, I know I have read a great book by a real author. Such a book is the "Arabian Nights." Who has read it? It has remained in my thoughts—remains there now—and therefore, with the statement of Joselen, I call it a great book.

'Robinson Crusoe', when it appeared in 1719 was greeted with the most favorable reception of any book ever written. Its popularity was immediate and universal. Today this simple story has been translated into more languages than any other English book.

It is a story in which Robinson Crusoe went to sea, was shipwrecked, lived on an uninhabited island of the tropics and relieved the weariness of life by numerous contrivances. He saved a young Indian from death, made him his companion and servant, and was at last rescued by a passing ship.

It is a simple tale of adventure, so Defoe tells it in simple language—in such a way that it seems to us he related his story without thought as to how he may be forming his sentences, or what sequence he is keeping.

Nevertheless, the tale of Robinson Crusoe's adventures is made one of the greatest works of fiction the world has ever known. With all truth of the works of fiction I have read, "Robinson Crusoe," I feel, is beyond doubt one of the greatest.

PENROD

Booth Tarkington, according to a popularity contest recently conducted by an eastern newspaper, is the most popular author in America. Popularity, Emerson once declared, does not declaim greatness. But Mr. Emerson, there is always something back of popularity.

Literary critics declare Tarkington's greatest work rests between "Alice Adams" and "Penrod." Should the boys of America—and the girls, possibly—be given the privilege of choosing, there can be no doubt as to the yell of choice that they would make ring in the ears of those critics: "Penrod."

I am a boy.

I lay claim to being no other thing. And because I am a boy I like boy stories. When I read "Penrod"—

And the love which I held for the book has not smouldered, it still flames. I still find pleasure in rambling through the pages of this great work.

"Penrod" is the most read of all juvenile books—books meant to be juvenile (different from Bok's book in that respect). If he gets it, the book will help him form the right mind you, he will not part with that book until he has read it from cover to cover, and not until he has read it a hundred times over. I have seen a boy who had read "Penrod" a hundred times over, and he was still reading it.

For the boy who reads "Penrod" is not a boy who is content with the ordinary. He is a boy who is looking for something new, something different, something that will give him a new way of looking at the world.

A MASTERPIECE

THE BIBLE

As a writer I was very much interested in the Bible. I have read it many times, and I have found it to be a masterpiece of literature, a masterpiece of all time.

The Bible is the masterpiece of literature, a masterpiece of all time. It is as much above Shakespeare as Shakespeare is above the other writers of his time.

The Bible is the masterpiece of literature, a masterpiece of all time. It is as much above Shakespeare as Shakespeare is above the other writers of his time.

Chosen

THE BEST AS THE BEST

Asked to choose the most important passage of the book I select as best, the passage I choose—and my choice, I believe, will be agreed to by all laymen and reverend gentlemen—is the old familiar verse we learned in our childhood.

For "I so loved the world that he gave his only begotten son that whosoever believeth in him should not perish but have everlasting life."

It is here, and here only, do we find the answer to man's greatest problems—the problems of life, death and immortality. It is the belief to which you and I hold, and the promise that makes the world go round.

HIMIE MARKOWITZ

BOYS DRAMATIC READING CONTEST

Himie Markowitz, who won the Apollo contest and has also distinguished himself as an athlete and actor was chosen to represent Tulsa High in the Boys Dramatic Reading contest of the little twelve conference. Himie is a second year dramatics student, and although he has taken part in many of the high school plays, he rose to supreme heights as a high school dramatic star when he so successfully portrayed the dual role of "Dr. Jekyll and Mr. Hyde" cuttings of which he used for his contest number. Himie's work is characterized by a natural creative ability, and distinctive enunciation.

In the dramatic reading contest which was held at Shawnee Himie was awarded second place. Recently he again won distinction when he was awarded the right to represent Tulsa High in the contest which was held at Norman during the latter part of April.

Himie is very industrious and earnestly deserves all the fame that he has achieved through hard work.

GIRLS DRAMATIC READING CONTEST

Lois Kahn was Tulsa High's representative in the Dramatic Reading Contest for girls. After winning first place in the preliminary contest at Blackwell she again brought laurels to herself and Tulsa High when she was awarded first place in the final contest held in Tulsa. Lois' contest reading was a scene from Shakespeare's well known comedy, 'The Taming of the Shrew,' which she gave with her usual splendid spirit, and polished technique.

In the standard oration contest which was held in order to decide who should be Tulsa High's representative at Norman, Lois proved that she not only had dramatic ability but also that she is a very eloquent orator as she was awarded first place in the standard oration contest. Her oration was 'A Plea for Cuba' by J. M. Thurston.

Although Lois is but a sophomore she has achieved much in the dramatic world. She is a second year dramatic student, and has also had additional instruction at the University of Tulsa.

BOYS' DEBATE

Top row, left to right—Luther Williams, Lucian Morrison Bottom row—Seymour May, Silas Lang, Robert Shaw.

"Pete's Powerful Parlevers" got a even break in their oratorical exploits on March 21. The unexpected forfeiture by Sapulpa of their arguments to both Bartlesville and Tulsa necessitated a dual debate between the Bartlesville and Tulsa teams.

Under the conditions the debate in which the affirmative team participated and lost at Bartlesville was the regularly scheduled contest and the one at home in assembly was an accommodation debate. Our negative won thereby getting an even break, but still the forfeits by Sapulpa gave the triangle championship to Bartlesville.

The question "Resolved That the United States should become a member of the Permanent Court of International Justice" was given to the boys in September and the question was studied thoroughly by both teams. Mr. R. G. Peterson, the coach, gave the teams much valuable information and spent many hours of hard work in preparing Tulsa's 1924 Debate Squad.

Next year's debate teams will come from the English V classes organized this year. Promising material has shown up in these classes and though they will only be first year material as were the boys this year, a really arguing bunch of "Haranguers" and "Parlevers" is hoped for from this group.

GIRLS' DEBATE

In the very short debate season this year, the girls' teams were victorious in one battle and met a creditable defeat in the other. This left Bartlesville the champion of the Eastern District of the state conference.

On February 15, the affirmative team met Sapulpa at Sapulpa and succeeded in overthrowing this stumbling block of the previous year. On the same day, the girls on the negative team, though unable to overwhelm Bartlesville in the tilt at Tulsa, presented a strong argument and made the decision of the judges difficult.

The question that was debated was, "Resolved, that the cabinet parliamentary form of government be adopted by the United States." Although it is often deemed that such a change would come about nowhere except in the realm of theory, the subject was not of a purely academic nature and some leaders, such as Wilson and Taft have favored and even proposed the incorporation of some of the parliamentary methods.

The appellation, "Houk's Haranguers," was justly placed upon the girls since much credit was due to their coach, Miss Mary Houk.

GIRLS' HOME ROOM BASKETBALL

The idea of a home room basketball tournament was inaugurated this year, but on account of its popularity among the girls, it promises to become an annual event.

The Health Education Department introduced the tournament in order to reach the mass of girls which interclass basketball does not do. The latter takes in only approximately twenty girls from each class, while in the home-room basketball any girl interested in the game has a chance to play.

This year the girls showed their enthusiasm by coming to every practice and putting "pep plus" into the games. Every room represented had an equal chance but it was the home-rooms who stayed with it and came to every practice that played best. Freshmen, Sophomores, Juniors, Seniors, they were all there and many a lively fight ensued. The two strongest opponents were B-34 and D-5, with B-32 a close third. In the final game, which decided the championship, B-34 won from D-5, a Sophomore home-room, by a score of 19 to 8.

The Senior team, B-34, was composed of the following girls: Mildred Miller, captain and jump center; Olive List, running center; Florence Stover and Arthura Heatherly, forwards; Bernie Davenport, Lois Bates, and Doris Wood, guards. By virtue of this victory, B-34 won the silver loving cup which was given by the Health Education Department.

APOLLO

One of the most outstanding events in the Hi-Y calendar is the staging of the annual Apollo Contest, to determine the boy whose physical body merits his bearing the name of the high school Apollo. This year, the title was won by Himie Markowitz, whose physical prowess has always been recognized by the school. Himie was victorious over a field of approximately twenty competitors, and came away with a beautiful individual loving cup awarded by the Hi-Y clubs. The new permanent cup, donated by Sanders-Rones, of our city, will be placed in the school trophy room bearing Himie's name as the Apollo of '24.

The winner of the contest is judged by three local physicians who grade the competitors on symmetry of body, muscle development, and on their participation in school athletics. In summing up the points, it was found that Himie averaged highest when considering all three phases, however, several other boys pushed him hard to the finish, including last year's Apollo, Orle McElhenie. Himie was in fine condition for the contest as he had just completed a victorious football season. He has been in athletics since his freshman year, and has taken great pride in the development of his body, which, at the present time, is an excellent specimen, according to the judges.

Mr. Robert A. Russell, Hi-Y director, who originated the idea of an Apollo contest and started it in the local clubs last year, has received much commendation for including this event in the calendar of Hi-Y activities, and resulting from the success which the idea has had in the Tulsa center, the State Boy's Work Committee is to install it as a state event beginning next year.

The annual Apollo contest is now an integral part of the four-fold development program of the Hi-Y Crusaders, and comes under the department of the "Keeping Fit" campaign held every year, for high school boys.

PRIZE WINNING SOCIAL PROBLEMS ESSAY
HOW TO ELIMINATE TULSA'S LAW VIOLATORS

By VIRGINIA LOCKWOOD

The number of persons listed on the payroll was smaller for the year 1922-23 than for that of 1921-22 there were more law violators in the protection of the citizens of Tulsa. We are most glad and willing to attribute this success to our present police force, yet we all are aware of the fact that we are still confronted with a more or less complex problem with regard to the elimination of crime in our city.

There are admittedly, several ways in which Tulsa may lessen and finally eliminate law violation. The most logical way, I believe, is through education in the public schools. While very good results might be obtained by 'drives' sponsored by certain organizations or groups of citizens nevertheless, the lasting or permanent qualities of these results would be doubtful. Furthermore, active co-operation between the policeman and the home is the only way to solve the problem. The annual report of the Tulsa police department tells us that crimes committed by women of from 16 to 24 years of age constituted 61 per cent of the number of law violations. Proceeding on an assumption (no similar data being arranged for male violation) one may consider that the average may be struck about the same place for men. Since it is among our young people that the most crime is committed, it seems only sensible that we should educate our youth in order to guard against this very thing.

In the first place, the law of environment makes this solution plausible because of the impressionability of the child mind. We know that the child is held and dominated by the facts and customs of the place in which he finds himself. Since the home and the school are the most important places in the life of the child let us arrange his material and mental surroundings that at school, at least, he will have instilled into his nature, correct ideas as to obedience to the right and the evils brought to himself and others by wrong-doing.

An instance in the experience of one whom I know, may serve to drive this assertion home, so to speak. A boy of grade school age studied, in connection with a physiology course, the effects of alcohol upon the human machine and mentality. The ruinous results and the necessity for abstinence so impressed the mind of the youngster that, in this day, he has had no desire to touch the stuff—for such it is. Indeed, we have the eighteenth amendment as a result of teaching in the schools the harm of excessive use of alcohol. Surely it would be as simple and worthy a task to teach the rising generation that for the mutual benefit of themselves and others, they must be law-abiding citizens. When this fact is really impressed upon the child, he will carry with him throughout life, the correct and fixed idea of the law.

Another convincing argument in favor of the contention, that the elimination of law violation can be best brought about by education through the school, is the fact that children, with the knowledge gained will influence their parents to an appreciable extent. When the little foreigner, who goes to American schools and learns to have and wishes to have respect for our flag and our institutions, goes home to tell his parents and elder brothers and sisters, the worthy things he has learned, partly through the influence of the school and partly of a law-abiding citizen, but he has also helped to launch his parents upon the same road to happiness. He has taught them that observance of the law is what makes them happy and not a sense of violation of the law, which latter assertion the average ignorant foreigner is wont to believe.

Thus, we see that it is our young people, the present rising generation, who must be educated as to the duties and obligations of a law-abiding citizen. Only by inculcating a proper attitude in the minds of these people may we expect subsequent observance of the law.

NORMAN CONTESTANTS

They encountered mud! Yes, fields of mud, but were victorious. The flag of Tulsa High School flew high at Norman from the time the special train of seven coaches carrying approximately three hundred fifty contestants, chaperones, and boosters arriving in Norman Thursday noon, until eleven Saturday night when the "Tulsa Special" pulled out carrying the scholastic championship of Oklahoma.

Tulsa had one of the largest representations at the meet, and, in spite of the rain which dampened the atmosphere but not the spirits of the students, the Tulsa contestants met with success on all sides.

Several new contests were added to the list this year, including the string quartet, the instrumental trio, and the trombone contests. All of the departments in the school were represented in the meet, in fact, the contests included "everything from omelet-making to plane geometry."

The contestants spent their leisure time in the movies, or in watching the track meet, which was reached best by those who had taken a course in swimming. Muddy?—well, rather.

Those who took the journey to Norman came home with the determination to "dig hard," next year, in order to bring from the university again, laurels for Tulsa High. Those who stayed at home and waited resolved to be among the contestants for 1925.

During the months of March and April, 1924, the Indians of the Tulsa high school perfected an organization "The Indian Club". The incentive for such an organization came from the fact that there are one hundred or more Indians in high school representing various tribes. In order to have common interests some sort of organization was necessary.

The specific purpose of the club is to collect Indian history, traditions, legends, and personal history and present them in the club meetings about every three weeks, thus preserving original American history. In Oklahoma, more than in any other place Indian history is to be found. Already many prominent Indians of Indian Territory days have gone to the Happy Hunting Ground leaving no word of their very interesting past. It is the aim of the club to assist in passing on to future generations worthwhile information that can be obtained from Indians now living.

The club intends to give an Indian program in general assembly at least once a year. It is hoped that such a program will be educational, as well as entertaining and that those who have seen but little of Indian life will become more familiar with original America. Abundant material is available for such a program.

In the club are persons of famous ancestry—heads of clans, chiefs, and modern elective officials. Not all of the tribes are yet identified with the club, but by the beginning of the next school year, this will be completed. Thus far the following tribes are represented—Creek, Cherokee, Chickasaw, Choctaw, Osage, Delaware, Shawnee, Apache and Mohawk.

In electing officers for the club, as nearly as possible, the Indian method of election is followed as well as the choice of names for officers.
